The Union Pacific has decided to fund the floating debt which it accumulated in its fight for the control of the Northern Pacific.—Page 10.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were over $1,335,000 less than those for the same last year.—Page 11.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was somewhat broader, but still very dull. Prices generally reacted.—Page 11.

Wall street starts out with a good advance, but realization causes a slump.—Page 10.

End of the corner in corn causes a big sag in the July option and other grains are slightly lower.—Page 10.

THE WEATHER.

The thunderstorms and cooler weather scheduled by the weather bureau for yesterday in Pittsburgh did not materialize, for the thermometer went as high as it did on Sunday and there was but a drop or two of rain that did not yet the sidewalks. The maximum temperature was 85 degrees. For today fair and warmer weather is promised. Valentine, Neb., away up in the blizzard region, had 104 degrees at 8 o'clock last night, a temperature never experienced in Pittsburgh at that hour.

Warmer.

BOND ISSUE OBJECTORS INSINCERE

Steel Corporation Makes Answer to the New Jersey Suit.

PRESIDENT SCHWAB REVEALS FIGURES

Company's Property Worth More Than All Its Issues of Stock and Bonds.

INCOME FAR BEYOND ALL FIXED CHARGES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Newark, N. J., July 15.—The answer of the United States Steel Corporation to the suit brought by J. Aspinwall Hodge, William H. Curtiss and Bernard Smith, who asked for an injunction to prevent the company from carrying out its bond conversion plan, was filed today before Vice Chancellor Emery. When the case came up before the vice chancellor it was put over until July 23.

The answer is sworn to by Charles M. Schwab, as president. For the first time since the organization of the Steel Corporation a detailed statement of the assets of the properties of the subsidiary companies is furnished. These assets, it is stated, include 400 producing mills of the value of $500,000,000; 75 blast furnaces of the value of $48,000,000; iron and Bessemer ore properties of the value of $700,000,000; coal and coke properties of the value of $100,000,000; natural gas fields of the value of $20,000,000; cash in bank to the amount of $86,000,000 and over $80,000,000 of materials in process of manufacture.

High Above Billion Mark.

The total value of the company's property including cash and cash assets is placed at $1,400,000,000 by Mr. Schwab in an affidavit which is part of the corporation's reply. The company's earnings are stated to be at the rate of more than $140,000,000 a year. A saving of $80,000,000 a year is credited to the ore properties, and it is estimated that the ownership of transportation facilities saves the company $10,000,000 annually. The earnings of the coal and coke properties are stated to be more than $1,000,000 a month.

These statements as to values and earnings were presented to disprove a charge by the plaintiffs that Mr. Schwab, the president, and Mr. Trimble, the secretary, made a false certificate when they certified that in their judgment the properties were worth at least the par value of the preferred stock after deducting all indebtedness. The corporation declares it has no knowledge that Hodge is the owner of 100 shares of its preferred stock, but admits that in August, 1901, 100 shares of preferred stock were transferred to his name on the company's books.

Curtiss Has No Stock.

It is denied that William H. Curtiss is the owner of any of the company's stock and it is declared that Bernard Smith is the holder of 200 shares of preferred stock, which were transferred to him on June 26, 1902.

The conversion plan was agreed upon at a stockholders' meeting on May 19. The answer admits that the conversion plan includes a payment of $10,000,000 to J. P. Morgan & Co. It denies that any of the acts contemplated will work fraud or injury to the complainants, but says that, on the contrary, such acts when consummated will be greatly to the benefit of the corporation and of every stockholder. The answer says that some of the directors are members of the syndicate formed by J. P. Morgan & Co. to float bonds and that that fact was communicated to stockholders in a circular dated April 17, 1902.

It is further declared that the directors so interested constitute a minority of the board of directors, that they were individually at the time of the formation of such syndicate and now are, owners and holders of large amounts of the stock of the defendant corporation, and that they became parties to said syndicate and assumed their proportion of the liability thereof in order to assure the success of the plan of purchasing and retiring the

Syndicate Closes Deal at a Probable Profit of $1,500,000.

FARMERS SWAMP TOWN WITH GRAIN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, July 15.—The famous John W. Gates corner in July corn came to an abrupt termination today when it became known that shorts to the extent of a good many million bushels had effected private settlements with Harris, Gates & Co., and that the deal was at an end so far as the steel magnate was concerned. The July price responded to the settlement by a quick drop of 15¾c to 65¼c. Later it recovered a fraction and closed at 65½c, substantially the price of the cash article.

Just how many bushels were subject to private settlement will probably never be known, nor is there much chance that the identity of the "big fellows" in the trade who doubtless contributed liberally to the fortunes of Mr. Gates and the friends associated with him in the deal will ever be positively known. Mr. Gates is at present in New York and Mr. Scotten, manager for the Harris-Gates house, would admit only the fact of a settlement by the outstanding shorts. Even the fact of a termination of the July deal was left largely to inference. But the trade really figured that with the shorts practically all in, nothing in the shape of a corner could exist.

Ends in Quiet Deal.

No special excitement attended the premature puncturing of the bubble by the man whose property it was. The trade has all along admitted that Gates was right and also his ability to do what he pleased with corn, and if he chose to close the deal a couple of weeks prior to the time at which it would have ended by limitation there was no one to say him nay. The only unusual thing in the pit prior to the time at which it became known the corner was at an end was the unusual purchasing of July corn in small lots by various commission houses. Pit trade during the day, however, was not much over 500,000 bushels.

Manager Scotton would not discuss the settlement price. This price, however, was not a matter of decided interest to the trade generally. With the knowledge that Monday night's closing price was 81c and the opening today from 79c to 80c, the consensus of opinion among the outsiders was that Mr. Gates had demanded either 80 or 81 cents from the people who were foolish enough to sell him corn all the way from 40c up.

The "length" of the line of July settled for by shorts is also a matter of more or less conjecture. Scotten said it was several million bushels, and that the length of the line had never been overestimated. It has been called as high as 25,000,000 bushels, but more generally 20,000,000 bushels.

Have Some Corn to Peddle.

It is a matter of common knowledge that since it became possible to make deliveries on July contracts the Harris-Gates people have taken in and paid for about 3,000,000 bushels. This would leave settlements on some 17,000,000 bushels.

To form an estimate of the apparent profit by the deal would necessitate a knowledge of the average price at which the property was bought. This can never be known unless some time later Gates chooses to divulge. It is estimated, however, by close observers of the transaction that Mr. Gates' profit will not exceed $1,500,000. This amount will be divided between 10 or 12 millionaires who were interested in the deal.

Gates and his friends have between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 bushels of cash corn which they must dispose of before the corner can be called absolutely settled. This corn represents the "corpse" which in every corner ever run has been the stumbling block to success. If the average price of the Harris-Gates holding should prove well up to the 70c point the clique had on hand several million bushels of corn which cost its holdings in excess of the present market price. Right here is the salient point. Will it be necessary to market this large holding of corn at less than cost?

The corner at one time promised many millions of profit, and the farmer, whose well-filled cribs line the tracks of nearly every railroad entering Chicago, is held responsible for the disappointing ending of the corner. There were substantial reserves from the bumper crop of 1900 and the large yield of 1901. This corn has been held for a satisfactory market.

IGNORANCE THE DEMON OF THE MINE

MINERS MUST BE BETTER SEARCHED

Decision of the Investigators Will Be Given to Coroner's Jury July 23.

BURIAL LAW BROKEN IN EVERY INSTANCE

By JAMES B. SANSOM,
Staff Correspondent.

Johnstown, Pa., July 15.—The inspectors concluded their investigation of the cause of the Rolling Mill mine disaster this afternoon and departed for their homes. They have thoroughly satisfied themselves as to what caused the catastrophe and who the careless workmen were who ignited the gas.

Although the inspectors refused to tell the cause of the accident, they did say emphatically that in the future miners will have to undergo a more thorough search before entering the headings to work.

Inspector J. T. Evans said tonight he would not care to have charge of the mine on account of the class of men now employed as miners. They are not intelligent enough to realize the danger they are in, and the thoughtlessness of one of these men might cost the lives of scores.

The inspectors will not return to Johnstown until summoned by Coroner E. L. Miller. In the meantime, Inspector Evans will make daily trips into the mine to inspect the Klondike section while the repair work is in progress there. As soon as these repairs are completed he will examine them, and if he decides the mine is safe, the miners will be sent in.

The Progress Is Slow.

It was expected that these repairs would be completed by Friday. From the slow progress made by the workmen during the last two days, it will be several weeks before the workmen can enter this section of the mine.

When seen tonight, Inspector Evans said:

"We have made a thorough investigation of the mine and know the cause of the accident. As a matter of fact I would not care to take charge of a mine today on account of the class of men employed as miners. The men employed by the companies now are unintelligent and have no knowledge of the danger in which they place themselves and the hundreds that work about them. In the future, miners will have to be watched and searched with more care. Unless you stand over this class of workmen all the time you are simply endangering the lives of hundreds.

"As soon as that explosion happened I knew what was the matter. Up until five months ago it was the best managed mine in America."

Coroner E. L. Miller has set July 23 for the inquest.

The Missing in the Mine.

The fate of the 20 or more missing miners supposed to be still in the mine is still wrapped in mystery. Not until every inch of the mine has been carefully searched and the old and abandoned workings explored, will anything definite be known. In the meantime there is no reason to alter the figures of last night, which showed a total of 115 known dead.

A gang of surveyors is running levels through the various headings, but they are not conducting any search for bodies. There is one pitiful sight that affects every man who goes near the Westmont entrance. Wandering restlessly about, or sitting down within sight of the point where the mine cars first make their appearance, four women can be seen from daylight until long after dusk. At times there are other anxious ones—fathers, mothers, children, wives or brothers—who gather around them, waiting for the same thing—the announcement that more bodies have been found. But these four faithful women still sit and watch and wait. Trip after trip was made today, and they would arise and scan the mov-

TOWNS WIPED OUT BY FIERCE STORM IN NORTH DAKOTA

Scarcely a Building Left in One Village, and Great Destruction in Others.

MANY LIVES MAY BE LOST

St. Paul, Minn., July 16.—Great damage and, it is thought, much loss of life were caused by a tornado which tonight swept in a southwesterly direction from the international boundary across the northeastern portion of North Dakota.

The three towns of Borup, Eldorado and Thompson, according to reports, were totally wiped out.

The little town of Borup, on the St. Vincent line of the Great Northern, is an absolute wreck. The final report was that the entire town was wiped out and hardly a structure of any sort left standing. This came from a plucky Great Northern telegraph operator who, after his station had been laid flat, saved his key from the ruins and tapped the wires at the nearest available point. He also reported the razing of a hamlet some miles distant with destruction of a large amount of property. The report from Borup came in very soon after the storm struck and contained no information as to the casualties.

At Thompson the Great Northern station lies a confused mass of wreckage directly across the main line. Stores and residences are in ruins and the main portion of the town is wiped out. The population is about 200.

Mere fragments of information come from Eldorado, but these indicate the destruction of that town, of about 250 people. Neither of the reports from Thompson or Eldorado speak of loss of life. This is partially accounted for by the fact that they were sent before news could have been received from the outlying districts.

Some Carnegie Armor Rejected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—The navy department has rejected the group of armor plate from the Carnegie factory which failed to stand the required tests at Indian Head last week. The group is a small one, consisting of about 300 tons of casemate armor for the battleship Missouri. The company now must either retreat the plates for another test or substitute others.

TEACHERS SAW MEMBERS OF ROYAL FAMILY

TOURING PARTY ENJOYING HEALTH

By L. W. STRAYER,
Staff Correspondent.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 15.—The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph's European guests, the school teachers from Pittsburgh and vicinity, spent their first day of actual sight-seeing on foreign soil. The party occupied the day looking over London as a preliminary or initial step to the campaign of a general round-up of all the points of interest that is to be made in this city.

The historic and interesting Tower of London was the principal object of the day's tour of the city. One notable incident which made the visit to the tower of supreme interest was the presence there of the three children of the prince of Wales. The children, like the teachers from Western Pennsylvania, were making their first visit to the tower. Prince Edward Albert, eldest son of the prince of Wales, and the apparent heir to the throne of Great Britain, is an interesting youth who shows much devotion to his younger sister, Princess Victoria.

We had ample opportunity to watch the royal party at the tower, and the children seemed as much interested in the sights they saw there as we did in seeing them. It was a rare opportunity for the Western Pennsylvania teachers to see the royal party, as the latters' visit there was the first and probably the last for a long season.

Should the youthful Prince Edward Albert ascend to the throne of England, today's experience will be of especial interest to the party of teachers who will remember well the king of England as he appeared in his childhood at old London tower.

All the members of the party are enjoying good health and taking an intense interest and delight in roaming about the English metropolis.

MURDEROUS FIRE OF REBELS KILLS WIVES AND BABIES

Women and Children Shot Down by Husbands and Fathers.

HOMES LOOTED AND FIRED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 16.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Mail says official reports received describe a formidable Macedonian rising in the vilayet of Monastir, European Turkey. According to these reports the rebels, intrenched on the banks of the Ostrovo, withstood the attacks of 1,000 Turkish regulars and several hundred Bashi-Basouks for a week.

Finally the Turks placed the Macedonian women and children in the front, as a screen, and stormed the position of the rebels. The latter returned a murderous fire and many women and children were killed by their own husbands and fathers.

After dispersing the rebels the Turks massacred the population and looted and burned the houses of the inhabitants.

RUNNING TRAIN AFIRE.

Passenger and Baggage Car Destroyed on the Allegheny Valley Railroad.

OIL CITY, PA., July 15.—(Special.)—Two cars of the Pittsburgh & Emlenton accommodation train on the Allegheny Valley railroad were destroyed by fire last night at West Monterey. The hotel there, to which the flames communicated, was saved through the work of a bucket brigade.

A can of gasoline in the baggage car exploded. The inflammable substance caught fire while the train was speeding along, the breeze caused by the moving train fanning the flames. The train was stopped at the station. The fire fighting apparatus was inadequate and the flames spread to the smoker before it could be detached, consuming both cars.

Greensburg to Get Thiel College.

ROCHESTER, PA., July 15.—(Special.)—A proposition to remove Thiel college from Greenville, Pa., to some other place was considered at a meeting of the trustees of the college here today. The committee representing Greensburg stated that Greensburg would raise $10,000 if an extension could be secured until September 2. The trustees decided by a vote of 9 to 5 to accept the proposition of the Greensburg committee.

GOV. STONE INSULTED BY GUAROSMEN

REGIMENTS GIVEN INSPECTION DRILL

By ROBERT WRAY,
Staff Correspondent.

Camp George G. Meade, Gettysburg, July 15.—Under the rays of a blazing July sun that caused the mercury in the thermometer up to 96 degrees in the shade, the regiments of the Third brigade passed inspection today under the critical eyes of the inspector general and the regular army officers detailed by the secretary of war. Many of the men were prostrated by the sun and the field ambulances were kept on the move all day.

Two members of the First regiment of Philadelphia were court-martialed today for insulting Gov. Stone by making disparaging remarks as he drove through Gettysburg yesterday. It is said the men will be drummed out of camp. Maj. Gen. Miller, who has been ill since yesterday, is still confined to division headquarters.

The first regiment to be inspected was the Ninth. Each regiment had been supplied with 5,500 rounds of blank cartridges and the inspection drill was worked out as if in actual warfare.

While the inspection drills were being held in the Third brigade, the guards and sentinels of the Second brigade were being inspected by Col. Penney. Each was mounted in each regiment and closely scrutinized by the regular officers. Col. Penney noted the movements of the details as they marched into position and marked the errors when made. The movements to the line were very slow and halted details made the ratings bad for regiments. There was little life and snap in many of the commands as their details marched on the guard line.

The Fourteenth's Formation.

The most beautiful guard formation of the inspection was that made by the Fourteenth infantry. From the left flank of camp the details came at quick time, moving over a large angle and covering two sides of a square rapidly, taking up position on the guard line. The band in the meantime played a quickstep until the inspection was completed and the guard formed a...the guard house. Col. Penney, who noted each movement, expressed himself as very much pleased with the inspection.

Although not stated officially, the inspection has developed that sentries are badly instructed throughout the division. Most of the regiments passed the inspection with honors, but there is much room for improvement in the inspection of the man who has to walk post.

The medical supplies are not as large this year as at other encampments, and there is much complaint in regard to them. Numbers of the men are suffering from slight ailments caused by change of water and food, but the simple remedies for such cases cannot be found in the surgeon's chest.

Some of the colonels are saying that next year they will fill their own medical chests and will not depend on the state.

Gov. Stone rode through part of camp today and witnessed some of the inspections. He appeared very much interested in the firing drills, taking a position where he could watch the work of the men. When he came over from division headquarters the Thirteenth infantry was being inspected.

Stone Saluted Gobin.

He rode up to where Gen. Gobin was watching the movements of the regiment and saluted him. The salute was returned, although Gen. Gobin had not dismounted, which was not required, as the commanding officer of the Third brigade was neither on sentry nor picket duty. The incident was at once magnified and has become the gossip of the camp, although the governor saluted his inferior as he left his camp.

The social features of the camp opened tonight with a dance on Little Round Top, which is being given by Mrs. Hastings to the officers of the Fifteenth infantry. It will be held in Rosensteel's pavilion, one of the noted resorts of Gettysburg. The officers will dance till daylight and then will have to report in the morning for inspection.

Col. L. F. Loree, who has subornated affairs of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, of which he is president, to his duties as provost marshal of the camp, left for Baltimore tonight. During his tour of duty the town was policed and patrolled better than ever in the history of the guard, and he carries away with him tonight the thanks of the people of Gettysburg for its orderly condition since the arrival of the division.

The United States government officials in charge of Gettysburg park requested today of Gen. Miller that the commanding officers of regiments be instructed to have a report made of all the men of their company, that had never visited the battlefield. The report will be sent to the officials in the morning.

To Burn Much Powder.

The inspection of the companies of the Second brigade will commence with the Sixteenth infantry tomorrow morning and will close with the Fifth regiment about sundown. The inspection schedule is the same as last year and much powder will be burned in the drills. The competitive drills of the hospital corps of the division will be held before the camp closes. A valuable prize will be offered, which will be made known tomorrow.

Private John J. O'Brien, company I, Eighteenth infantry, was caught feigning today by Surgeon Ralston. O'Brien, who is a magnificent specimen of humanity, had been excused from duty by his captain, on the statement that he had been injured in a trolley wreck two weeks before coming to camp. He was ordered to the hospital today, and was examined by Surgeon Ralston. No bone was found broken. O'Brien is in the guardhouse tonight and will walk post tomorrow.

Battery drills are now being held before sunrise. Capt. Reese has Battery B assembled at 4 o'clock each morning, and by the time reveille is sounded the day's drill is over for men and horses. The early morning hour for the drill was selected by the battery commander for the protection of his men from the sun.

It was decided tonight that the governor's review will be held on Thursday. While it is not positively known when Gen. Corbin and Secretary Root will arrive in camp, the indications are that they will come in on Friday morning. Should they arrive a review will be tendered the secretary of war.

The employes of the state arsenal at Harrisburg, who for years have helped to lay out all the camps of the division, are unanimous in their opinion that the camp of the Sixteenth regiment is the finest in the entire division. They think that the prize saddle offered to the quartermaster for the best camp will go to Capt. W. H. Corbin, the general quartermaster of Col. Hulings' command. The prize is offered by Col. Thomas Potter, and will be awarded before the close of camp.

THOUSANDS PAY LAST HONORS TO FATHER JIM

Wonderful Outpouring of Priests and People at Funeral Services Over Rev. Father McTighe.

The funeral of the Rev. Father James J. McTighe, rector of the Roman Catholic church of St. John, the Evangelist, South Fourteenth street, who died Saturday, took place yesterday. The solemn requiem mass for the repose of his soul was chanted by one who was a fellow student of Father McTighe at the American college in Rome, the funeral sermon was preached by the same priest, and the attendants at the altar, the deacon and subdeacon, were also fellow students of the dead clergyman. Thousands of the congregations to which Father McTighe had ministered paid their last respects to the dead man lying on his bier, and many of the poor, to whom he had been a benefactor, were not dry-eyed as they gazed for the last time on the well-known lineaments.

It was in the church of St. John, the Evangelist, on the South Side, in which Father McTighe began and ended his priestly labors, that the last ceremonies of the church were held. Priests of the diocese to the number of 250 attended the mass for the dead, a pouring out of ecclesiastics hitherto unheard of at the funeral of a simple priest in this diocese.

The celebrant of the mass was Father Ferdinand Kittell of St. Michael's church, Loretto; Father E. M. McKeever, pastor of the Church of St. John the Baptist, Pittsburgh, and Father William Kittell, chancellor of the diocese, were respectively deacon and subdeacon. Father Thomas Devlin, pastor of the Church of the Holy Cross, South Side, was master of ceremonies. Father Ferdinand Kittell also preached the funeral sermon.

During the mass the corpse, clad in priestly vestments, lay in state before the altar, and after the ceremonies were over 2,000 persons, members of the congregation and of the other congregations over which Father McTighe had presided, filed by for a last look at the body.

In his sermon Father Kittell touched on the early life of the dead priest, his boyhood days in Pittsburgh, the place of his birth, and his seminary days in Rome. The preacher said he had known no man who had done more genuine charitable work than Father McTighe, as his whole life was an act of charity and he gave of his means and his time to a wonderful degree. During the financial panic of 1893 he distributed money, paid doctors' bills and left blank orders for groceries with the poor.

The burial was in Mt. Calvary cemetery, at 2 p. m., from the pastoral residence adjoining the church. Father McTighe was buried in the family lot. Seventy-five carriages, bearing the family and many of the priests of the diocese, were in the funeral procession.

Mrs. Florence Thompson Has a Grievance Against a Perrysville Avenue Woman.

Mrs. Ida Bowers of No. 2102 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, was sued yesterday before Alderman William Walsh of the West End on a charge of forcible entry.

Mrs. Florence Thompson, the prosecutor, seeks redress for being turned out of her room in the Bowers residence during Monday night.

Mrs. Thompson and her husband, William, are new comers to the city and Mrs. Thompson on Monday secured a room with the Bowers, paying a week's rent in advance.

She alleges that she rented the room for herself and husband, but when he returned at 10 o'clock Monday night from his work in Pittsburgh, there was trouble, and Mrs. Bowers did not believe that he was the husband and ordered him to leave the place, which he did, going to a hotel for the night.

About 12:30 p. m., when Mr. Bowers, who is a street car conductor, arrived home, his wife told him of the occurrence. The two went to Mrs. Thompson's and breaking open the door ordered her from the house. They placed her trunk on the sidewalk and pushed her out after it.

OIL FIELD BURNING.

Several Tanks of the Jennings Company in Louisiana Licked Up. Blaze Spreading.

JENNINGS, ALA., July 15.—During a heavy thunderstorm that passed over the Jennings oil field about noon a bolt struck the field storage tanks of the Jennings Oil Company, setting them on fire. The flames spread to the derricks adjoining and in a short time they, as well as the tanks, were destroyed.

The flames ate away a part of two old tanks, allowing the oil to escape, and the fluid rushed in burning streams in the direction of the Coulee. The fire is still raging tonight and the safety of the field depends on the strength of Jennings No. 2.

TRACY KILLS MERRILL.

Escaped Convict Shoots His Comrade in the Back—Body Found Near Napavine.

SEATTLE, WASH., July 15.—A special from Chehalis, says: The body of David Merrill, who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary with Harry Tracy on June 9, has been found. The last time that Merrill was seen with Tracy was on June 26 in Tumwater canyon. Later Tracy said he had killed his comrade.

The body of Merrill was found by a Mrs. Wagner and her 12-year-old son yesterday and she will claim the reward of $2,750. A bullet hole is visible in the back and there is also one in the wrist.

BEAVER COLLEGE BENEFITED.

Report of Master in Pittsburgh Female College Case Ends Long Litigation.

The report of J. C. Swearingen of Pittsburgh, master in the case of the funds of the defunct Pittsburgh Female college, which gives the funds, amounting to $27,000 to Beaver college, is very gratifying to the friends of the latter institution. The matter has been in litigation for several years.

The trustees and stockholders of the Pittsburgh Female college asked the court to dissolve the board and make a distribution of the funds to the stockholders. Allegheny college, at Meadville, also desired to secure the funds, but it all goes to Beaver college.

MISS ROUDEZ BETROTHED.

Meadville Songstress to Wed a New York Newspaper Man.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(Special.)—Miss Maud Roudez, an opera singer who was one of the heroines of the wreck of the Mohegan in 1898, announces her engagement to Willard Winthrop Barling, a newspaper man of this city. The wedding is to take place soon. She will decide later on as to her retirement from the stage.

Miss Roudez's name off the stage is Roudebush and her home was formerly Meadville, Pa.

M'KEESPORT IS HAPPY OVER A CARNEGIE GIFT

Another Free Library Dedicated in Allegheny County Yesterday.

CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE

Formal Exercises in the Afternoon Were Followed by a Reception and Musical Entertainment in the Evening.

McKeesport's magnificent Carnegie free library was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies, beginning at 3 o'clock. When the time arrived for the Rev. Dr. T. N. Eaton, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, to make the invocation, fully 3,000 people were present.

C. C. Jones made an address in behalf of Mr. Carnegie, who sent his regrets. Mr. Jones presented the building to the city in a neat and appropriate manner. The address accepting the gift in behalf of the trustees was made by James Evans, president of the board of library trustees.

The dedicatory address proper was made by the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, president of Washington and Jefferson college. The Rev. Dr. Moffat in his usual forcible manner spoke of the good and necessity of such institutions to a city.

J. D. Douglass accepted the institution in behalf of the citizens of McKeesport. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. J. A. Nightengale. After the dedication ceremonies the building was inspected.

In the evening a musical entertainment and reception was held in the library hall. Another crowd as large as that present in the afternoon was in attendance. Several fine selections were rendered by the First Presbyterian choir of McKeesport and the Central Presbyterian church quartet.

The project for securing a library for McKeesport was agitated about three years ago. In April, 1899, several prominent citizens took the matter up and in a short time Andrew Carnegie promised to donate $50,000 toward the building, providing the city secured a site and paid for the maintenance of the institution. The building is in Library street and is an imposing stone structure, two full stories in height. Miss Emily Kuhn is librarian and Miss Flora Barron, assistant.

BODY OF MRS. BERGER FOUND IN OHIO RIVER

Mystery of an Oakland Woman's Disappearance Cleared Away. Two Other Drowning Cases.

The body of Mrs. Maria Berger, the missing wife of Henry Berger of No. 434 Atwood street, was taken from the Ohio river just above East Liverpool, O., last Sunday morning. The body was to have been interred yesterday in the Potter's field, as thousands had viewed it and none recognized it. But the undertaker, John Rinehart, reading in the Pittsburgh papers a description of the missing Mrs. Berger, found that the description tallied with the corpse. He telephoned to Pittsburgh and Mr. Berger sent members of the family to East Liverpool to identify the remains.

Mrs. Berger disappeared from her home on Saturday, leaving several letters and packages neatly tied, containing trinkets for various members of the family. Mr. Berger says that his wife was mentally deranged on account of financial reverses that had overtaken them.

Mr. Berger was at one time a prominent furniture dealer of Pittsburgh. He retired and built a large house on Perrysville avenue and an observatory fitted up with a telescope. He was an amateur astronomer and microscopist. Mrs. Berger was Maria B. Ups of Cincinnati. Her brother is supposed to have committed suicide last week and the worry over his death aggravated her mental condition.

John Kelly, 13 years old, was drowned in the Allegheny river at the foot of Forty-third street while bathing last evening. The boy and his brother, not much older, were the support of their mother, who lives at No. 218 Forty-second street.

Thomas Reese, 35 years old, a tin worker, living at No. 1210 Muriel street, was found drowned yesterday afternoon in the Monongahela river at the foot of South Seventeenth street. Reese was last seen alive at 9 p. m. on Sunday intoxicated.

HARMONY DEALS DENIED.

President Denny of the New Wing of Window Glass Workers Discredits Amalgamation.

John L. Denny, president of the newer organization of window glass workers, declared yesterday that there is no deal for amalgamation with the older organization, and would say nothing on the subject. The Denny organization at its recent convention withdrew from the Knights of Labor and will no longer participate in the fight between the two factions of the general order, but this is said not to indicate acquiescence to the Burns organization.

There was an apparently wild report yesterday that the American Window Glass Company is arranging to supply the markets of the Independent Glass Company at cost, for the purpose of promoting the harmony deal of the manufacturers. It was said that the Independent Company has no stock to meet its orders.

Officials of the Independent Glass Company said last night that the company has sufficient stock to meet its trade and that the report is untrue. Some of the concerns members of the Independent Glass Company were represented at the Cleveland meeting, which planned a new co-operation of all on prices, wages and length of the factory fire.

The Independent Company will hold its annual meeting at Atlantic City, August 12, and then a proposition will be made by President Weih for the reorganization. Some of the present constituents are expected to be left on the outside in the new organization. The present articles of agreement among the members of the Independent Glass Company expire January 1.

ROOSEVELT'S VISITORS.

Dines Editor McKelway and Will Entertain Low and Philbin Today.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 15.—While Mrs. Roosevelt was entertaining the ladies of the St. Hilda society on the Mayflower today a terrific thunderstorm broke over Long Island sound, but as it was not accompanied by wind there was not the slightest danger to the yachting party. The president did not accompany the party.

This evening St. Clair McKelway, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, was a guest of the president at dinner. Mayor Low and former District Attorney Philbin of New York will be the guests of the president later this week. Secretary of the Navy Moody, who is expected to pass a day or two with the president this week, may arrive late tomorrow evening or Thursday.

Secretary Cortelyou left for Washington. While in Washington he will adjust and pay all bills in connection with the assassination of President McKinley.

AUGUST WILL BE DULL POLITICALLY

POLITICIANS WILL SEEK RECREATION AND STRENGTH.

Many Citizens Meetings Have Been Held Recently and the Enthusiasm Shown Has Surprised the Leaders of That Organization—One More Fight to Come.

The district committees of the Citizens' party, in every ward in the city, will rest from their labors during August. Last week a number of important meetings were held to arrange for the opening of the fall campaign. No meetings of any importance are scheduled for August, but extra efforts are to be put forward for rousing meetings during September.

Almost every one of the Fourteenth ward district committees have held meetings within a few days, and the interest and attendance surprised even the leaders of the districts. Councilman James Booth, who was present at the meeting in the Thirteenth district, says he could hardly realize how many active workers have joined the Citizens' party in that ward until he counted noses at this meeting.

It is believed by some of the oldest politicians that the figures in November will be even higher than predicted by Thomas S. Bigelow during his conference with Senator Quay several days since.

The Citizens' party has, after the November election, one more sweeping victory to gain, that of the municipal election next February when a city recorder will be elected. This will probably be the last stand the organization will make and it will be a fight to its death.

Thomas S. Bigelow and William B. Hays are in Mt. Clemens arranging for one of the hottest fights that has ever been made in Pittsburgh.

Ex-Senator Flinn expects to return from Europe the latter part of this month and will leave to spend the heated season in Canada and the west. The annual trip of the organization men to Georgian Bay has been scheduled earlier this year. They expect to spend a month fishing in the Canadian wilds. Among those who will get away for Canada the latter part of this month or the first of August, will be: County Treasurer Thomas G. McClure, ex-Senator William Flinn, City Recorder J. O. Brown, County Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst, Register Frederick W. Edwards, Deputy Register Arch Mackrell, Delinquent Tax Collector Robert Ostermaier, Clarence Burleigh, Sheriff William McKinley, Harvey A. Lowry and Director A. H. Leslie.

PREMATURE BLAST FRIGHTENS WINDBER

No Gas Was Set Off, but the Explosion Killed One and Mortally Wounded Another.

BY GIBBONS MARSH,
Staff Correspondent.

WINDBER, PA., July 15.—At noon today an explosion occurred in mine No. 34, resulting in the death of one man and injury of three others. This mine is within seven miles of the ill-fated Rolling Mill mine, Johnstown. A stick of dynamite was being prepared for a blast and while the workman was adjusting the cap the explosive went off prematurely.

The dead victim is John Savack, 36 years old, a Slav, Windber, married and has six children. He was employed as a laborer. The injured are John Yelis, 25 years old, Windber, married, injured about the body, condition not serious; Roger Harvey, construction foreman, 55 years old, Windber, married, badly burned and will die, and John Sabo, 30 years old, married, Slav, Windber, injured about the head and shoulders by flying missiles, condition not serious. Five men were were working under Foreman Rodger Harvey, blasting rock to construct a road in the mine entry. They were working about one and one-half miles inside of the mine when the accident occurred.

Savack, who was adjusting the cap, was blown to pieces. Harvey and the three workmen were standing close by and they were all more or less burned and bruised.

The report startled the miners who were working nearby. James Harvey, son of the injured foreman, hurried to the scene, carried his father to a car and took him to the opening of the mine.

The report of the accident went through the mine like wildfire. Men began to run for their lives, fearing a repetition of last Thursday's disaster near Johnstown. The news also spread about Windber, and its residents, too, were terror-stricken. There were some 300 miners at work in this mine.

The Rev. Father Jerome McQuillin of Johnstown was sent for and administered the last sacrament of the Catholic church to Foreman Harvey. Tonight the foreman is dying.

This section of the mine was free from gas at the time of the explosion. The mine is owned by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company and gives employment to 2,000 miners. It is over the line in Somerset county.

MITCHELL IN CONTROL.

Miners' National Convention Will Do as He Dictates on the Strike Question.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 15.—From the talk of such delegates as have already arrived it is evident that President Mitchell will dominate the miners' national convention completely. Several delegates today announced that they had come uninstructed and were waiting to hear the opinion of the president. Others said they had come practically uninstructed to take such action as President Mitchell deemed advisable.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 15.—Delegates from the mines of the Springfield sub-district met here today and elected eight delegates to the national conference at Indianapolis. Their votes will be cast solidly against a strike.

CONSUL BRAGG'S TROUBLE.

Minister Quesada Wires to President Palma for Instructions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Senor Quesada, Cuban minister to the United States, has called attention of President Palma to the reported utterances of Consul General Bragg, and asked for instructions. Until he receives these he will take no steps in the matter. The original sentence was contained in a letter to Mrs. Bragg, and read:

"Uncle Sam might as well try to make a whistle out of a pig's tail as to try to make something out of the Latin race."

He was asked last night by the state department as to the authenticity of the letter, and in reply cabled: "Publication unauthorized."

WERE JOYFUL WHERE A YEAR AGO THEY SULKED.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the commencement of the great Amalgamated association strike of 1901 at the Painter mills of the United States Steel Corporation, and by way of celebration the 6 o'clock morning whistle was sounded from the big whistle for 10 or 15 minutes, to the alarm of all the neighborhood, Lower Allegheny and the Point district. Everybody wondered what all the row was about. It is one of the biggest, deep-sounding and hoarsest-voiced of whistles in the district, and can be heard for many miles. Its discordant notes were greeted with cheers yesterday by the same employes who last year heard it in sullen silence and refused to heed its call.

AN ACCIDENT PREVENTED A TEST OF THE NEW ELECTRIC FIRE ENGINE

JAMES E. WEAVER, the Inventor. F. F. LOROESCH, the Builder.

An accident in the shop of the Loroesch Machine Company yesterday prevented a test of the new electric fire engine invented by James E. Weaver of Allegheny. Several days will be required to repair the apparatus. A large crowd gathered to see the new machine and much disappointment was expressed when it was announced that an accident had occurred.

ing train closely to see the cars heaped with only "black diamonds."

Another revelation has been made as to the careless manner in which the dead were given out to claimants and buried without being properly identified. Coroner E. L. Miller acknowledged tonight that all of the victims of the explosion had been buried and that not a single burial permit had been taken out of his office. This was the last way in which errors could be corrected, and the coroner's statement makes it certain that the mystery of the death list can never be cleared up. Coroner Miller said:

"No, I did not issue burial permits for any of the dead in this disaster. I told the board of health I would issue them later. I do not know how we are going to get the names correctly. Secretary Matthews of the Cambria Relief association brought his list of the dead down here and we compared them this evening. I must acknowledge that we found many discrepancies, and though I believe nearly all of these differences will be adjusted finally, and my list is right, I do not see how we are going to fix it yet."

The burial of a dead man killed by violence, according to the law applying to all cities that have a board of health, is misdemeanor unless it is done on a permit from the coroner, which is presented to the board of health. That body must then issue an order for the burial. The law has not been complied with in the case of a single victim of Thursday's disaster.

Bridges Sticks to His Estimate.

Mail Carrier Robert H. Bridges, a member of the relief committee, on his rounds through Cambria City today, inquired for missing men especially, and said tonight:

"I have no reason to alter my estimate of 20 or more missing, although the confusion in the burial of the dead may result later in the discovery that a few of them have been buried already as unidentified or under a wrong name. Relief work is progressing well."

The missing whose names have been reported are Andrew Bubnis, John Bozia and George P. Zibela. It is believed that none of these men have been buried by mistake, as their families saw the dead bodies in the morgue and at the undertaker's. In one Polish boarding house the keeper and five boarders are reported missing. The congregations of the Greek, Polish and Slavish Catholic churches report about 19 missing.

Chief Engineer of Mines Marshall G. Moore said tonight: "I do not believe there are any more bodies in the mine. The men have been working for two days and none have been discovered and searchers have gone over every heading. We are still doing some repair work and clearing up falls in the Klondike."

A "fall" means a heap of slate, coal and rock that has dropped from the roof or sides of the mine. Until these are all removed and the abandoned workings carefully searched, no official announcement will be made that all the bodies have been recovered.

Hasty Burial a Source of Danger.

One of Johnstown's suburbs fears an epidemic of disease as a result of the manner in which the bodies were buried. Between 50 and 60 corpses were put in big, shallow trenches. To avoid such a consequence Mayor Pendry tomorrow will have the trenches opened and quicklime scattered over the bodies.

Morrellville, in whose cemetery nearly all the victims were buried, is just recovering from an epidemic of smallpox which many of the residents allege was caused by the water which ran down through the town from the cemetery above. The wash from the cemetery runs into a sluggish stream which flows through the town for almost its entire length. It was along this stream that so many homes were attacked by the dread disease, and the citizens, nearly all of whom attended the funerals of the mine victims, were very indignant over the manner of the burials. Their complaints reached the ears of the mayor, and he will personally investigate the matter in the morning.

Mayor Pendry is rather indignant at the health authorities for not supervising the burials.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED.

Braddock Council Fails to Adjust Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Tie-Up.

Braddock's council met yesterday, but did not do anything. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad wants to lay additional tracks across Third, Fourth and Fifth streets, but Burgess John Brennan says it cannot do so until it enters into an agreement to give up the streets if the borough ever needs them, and to place safety gates at each of the crossings.

Council passed the ordinance as the railroad wants it some time ago, but the burgess vetoed it, and says he will keep on vetoing it. The attorneys for the railroad say it will cost too much to put up the gates and maintain them, and that they do not propose to place themselves at the mercy of councils.

preferred stock, as they believed such plan to be of great value to the defendant corporation and its stockholders.

President Schwab's Statement.

Mr. Schwab's answer contains the following statement of the value of the corporation's property, which estimate, he says, he regards as below its real value:

Iron and Bessemer ore properties	$700,000,000
Plants, mills, fixtures, machinery, equipment, tools and real estate	350,000,000
Coal and coke fields (87,589 acres)	160,000,000
Transportation properties, including railroads (1,427 miles), terminals, docks, ships (112), equipment (23,185 cars and 428 locomotives), etc.	80,000,000
Blast furnaces	48,000,000
Natural gas fields	20,000,000
Limestone properties	4,000,000
Cash and cash assets as of June 1, 1902	148,291,000
Total	$1,400,291,000

Mr. Schwab calls attention to the value of $320,000,000 placed on the Carnegie properties, as a result of the Frick litigation. It is set forth also that the present fixed charges of the United States Steel Corporation are 5 per cent per annum on $303,757,000 of bonds and an annual sinking fund of $3,040,000, making an annual charge of $18,227,850.

Can Stand Big Reduction.

When the proposed issue of second mortgage bonds is outstanding, namely, $250,000,000 at 5 per cent, together with an annual sinking fund of $1,010,000, the total fixed charges of the United States Steel Corporation for interest and bond sinking funds will be $31,737,850, to provide which, Mr. Schwab says, the corporation is now earning at the rate of $140,000,000 per annum net.

"The profits of the United States Steel Corporation," the affidavit continues, "could be reduced more than 75 per cent, and there would still be ample funds to pay the interest and sinking funds upon the first and second mortgage bonds. Instead of a margin of two per cent, as intimated in the affidavit of Smith, there is a margin of 75 per cent before the solvency or financial ability of the steel corporation can possibly be questioned."

Only Transient Investors.

Fred P. Blinn, assistant secretary of the Hudson Trust Company, the corporation's transfer agent, made a statement in which it is set forth that no shares of stock of the United States Steel Corporation, preferred or common, now stand or ever stood on record in the name of the complainant, William H. Curtiss, or of any person by any similar name. As to Bernard Smith, the affidavit declares that 300 shares of preferred stock were transferred to his name on June 24, 1902; that these shares were sold on June 25, and that 200 shares were transferred to Smith on June 26. It is further stated that 100 shares of preferred stock stand in the name of J. Aspinwall Hodge, Jr., since August 15, 1901.

Another affidavit by Mr. Blinn says that Bernard Smith gave his address as 278 West One Hundred and Fiftieth street, New York, but that there is no such house. An order for dividends sent to Smith at that address, Mr. Blinn says, was returned by the postoffice department.

STRIKE IS BROKEN.

Four of the Twenty-Four Railroads in Chicago Reach Agreement With Freight Handlers.

CHICAGO, July 15.—With agreements reached between four railroads and their employers, the great strike of the freight handlers and teamsters that has paralyzed the industries of Chicago for a week is apparently broken. A majority of the strikers are expected to return to work tomorrow.

Their national president, Al Young, ordered the striking teamsters back to work tomorrow, but if the freight handlers refuse to declare the strike off officially, some of the teamsters may refuse to work.

The four railroads that entered into agreements tonight were the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Chicago & Northwestern, the Nickel Plate and the Illinois Central.

The freight handlers return to work without having obtained recognition of their union, time and a half for overtime or the abolishment of the probation period. On the other hand they have obtained increases in pay, the smallest one being 25 cents a day, procured by the truckers.

While the signing of the agreements breaks the strike it does not end it. It is still in progress as far as 20 of the 24 railroads in the city are concerned.

WABASH WILL OPPOSE GOING TO SUPREME COURT

Will Ask Judge McClung to Take No Further Action.

CITY'S MOVE OBSTRUCTED

Judge McClung Will Hold Further Hearing in Injunction Matter Before Deciding to Make It Permanent, so an Appeal Can Be Taken.

The city, in taking the Wabash to the supreme court, is not to be unobstructed, as was supposed. The Wabash is preparing to contest. Application by the city for a decree from the lower court on the opinion of Judge S. A. McClung is being disputed by the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western. If the city gets a ruling from the supreme court it will have to fight for it.

More testimony is to be taken before Judge McClung, and this may not be done until fall. A. M. Neeper is handling the Wabash end of the case and Assistant City Solicitor W. A. Blakeley is watching the city's interest.

The question the city wants to carry to the supreme court is whether a railroad can enter Pittsburgh without permission. Judge McClung a year ago, in an opinion concerning the injunction which the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western demanded, and which was granted temporarily, said that the railroad had a right to enter without the consent of the city. The injunction was to restrain the city from interfering with the contractors who were razing the old piers on the Monongahela wharf for the purpose of constructing new ones. Judge Marshall Brown in the case of Andrew Peyton against the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, otherwise the Wabash, recently gave an opinion similar to that of Judge McClung.

The city desires to get this question before the supreme court and have it settled, as it revolutionizes the conduct of city affairs with relation to railroad companies. For that reason the city planned to ask Judge McClung to make the injunction permanent. Assistant Solicitor Blakeley notified the attorneys for the Wabash of the wish of the city, and it was understood that the Wabash would not oppose this, as it had asked for the injunction and seemed as anxious as the city to have the matter settled.

The Wabash now has changed front and has notified Mr. Blakeley that it is the purpose to oppose the appeal, and for that reason will ask Judge McClung to take no further action on this injunction.

Judge McClung has agreed to a further hearing, and evidence will be presented by both sides.

Common council, according to the sentiments expressed by its leading members, stands ready at any time to pass ordinances granting the Wabash a franchise whenever it is asked.

ELKS HAVE GREAT SHOW.

Second Day of the Fair and Carnival at McKeesport Attracted Large Crowds.

The Elks' street fair and carnival at McKeesport brought great crowds to McKeesport yesterday. Early in the evening lodges from Monessen, Allegheny, Monongahela and Charleroi reached the city. The Allegheny delegation had a brass band and paraded the streets.

At least 20,000 people attended the fair, which is proving to be a success far above the expectations of those who have the affair in charge. The midway was thrown open free to a large number of children, and until late at night the hilarity and fun-making continued.

Today will be Elks' day, the biggest day on the program. Elks from all parts of Western Pennsylvania will be present and the largest crowd of the week is expected. This afternoon a young couple will be married at the fair grounds by Mayor R. J. Black of McKeesport. In the evening there will be fireworks.

A man giving the name as James Bailey was arrested near the carnival ground last night, charged by Joseph Kozer with highway robbery and assault and battery. Kozer alleges that Bailey attacked him in Fifth street, and that Bailey took some money from him.

COLLAPSE THREATENED.

Excitement in Penn Avenue, East End, Caused by the Sinking Walls of a Building.

Considerable excitement was occasioned yesterday afternoon at Penn and Sheridan avenues, East End, by the threatened collapse of the three-story brick and stone building at No. 6025 Penn avenue, which was being remodeled. There were about 12 men in the building at the time, some at work on the upper floors, and several in the cellar, digging a trench for a private sewer, when the west wall sank about a foot and several large cracks appeared in the stone front.

Contractor Thomas Mosser, who had the work in charge, last evening said:

"I cannot account for the sinking of the wall, as the foundations seem to be solid. The trench the men were digging was fully five feet from the wall and could in no way have caused the trouble, so far as I can see, as there is no quicksand. The wall dropped about a foot in two minutes. The building has heretofore held a great weight of merchandise. The new one-story addition we are building in the rear, was not affected, nor are the walls of the adjoining buildings. The entire 90 feet of the west wall, and the 20-foot front, will have to be taken down and rebuilt. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $2,000."

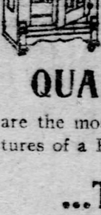
RUPTURE



THROW YOUR TRUSS AWAY.

There is only ONE cure for Rupture, and that is DR. SHERMAN'S CHEMIC METHOD. Trusses won't cure this disease! Cutting operations will sometimes, but they are too dangerous to risk. My modern procedure not only gives a positive CURE WITHOUT ANY CUTTING, PAIN, DANGER OR INTERFERENCE WITH YOUR DAILY DUTIES, but eliminates all possibility of a recurrence of the affliction.

I have given years and years of study to the perfecting of my procedure and have thousands of CURED patients. I feel that I could not save found the forces which make it possible to cure difficult forms of Rupture PERMANENTLY had I not followed the subject constantly! No other physician in the world has given so much study and labor to the complete mastering of this disease.

ORMISTON TIES WITH CHAMPION IN GOLF PLAY

Pittsburgher's Performance the Sensation of the Opening Tournament.

FAIR CHANCE OF VICTORY

Score Made in Face of Streaks of Hard Luck—Other Western Pennsylvanians Do Well and Are Well Matched for Today.

By J. N. PATTERSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, July 15.—George A. Ormiston furnished the golfing sensation of the national tournament today in tying Champion Travis for the lowest qualifying score of 79. After barely missing on some hard-luck holes, Ormiston has the great honor of leading the best golfers in the United States.

"Who is Ormiston and what will he do?" are now the questions of the hour, while both Byers and Fredericks are well up among the leaders.

Pittsburgh's strength has set the golfing world agog tonight, the Smoky City players being reckoned as leading factors in the competition for the championship. All but two of the Western Pennsylvania delegation, W. C. Fownes, Jr., and H. McSweeney, have qualified, and Ormiston is sure of the second cup for the qualifying round, even if he loses the play-off with Travis for the first, which he had a chance to capture by two strokes today.

The score of Champion Travis had easily headed the list by four strokes all day, when late in the afternoon excitement was created among the large crowd assembled, by the word that Ormiston of Pittsburgh was coming in with every chance of winning the cup. Ormiston drew an outburst of applause by a sensational 150-yard approach, which laid his ball eight feet from the hole.

Some Hard-Luck Streaks.

"He has the putt for the cup, and to beat Travis!" was excitedly echoed on every hand.

As Ormiston walked upon the green in company of Fred R. Hamlin, with whom he was playing the qualifying round, it was a hard shot for any golfer in any kind of play, but too much to expect of the untried Pittsburgher with so much at stake and the eyes of so many watching his supreme effort. His shot rolled three feet from the hole and the "Ohs," and "Too bads," merged into an outburst of applause as the dark horse in the race holed out in four strokes for a tie with the champion.

"He had an easy chance for a 78, and it's a shame he should have missed it," were the comments of Hamlin as Ormiston was surrounded by the enthusiastic crowd.

The eight-foot putt was not where Ormiston missed the honor, however. With three left to play he had a chance for a 77 and what may be termed a cinch for 78. Bogey is five for the sixteenth and Ormiston has often made it in four. He played safe for a five, however, looking to a 78, but pulled his drive a little, one of the few deviations from perfect golf during his entire play.

His third shot was where he lost his great chance, for he only caught the ball with the toe of his iron and fell short of the green, taking six for the hole that he might have had by grasping play in four. This was but his third hole over bogey, seven being under, while his first round was one to the good of the colonel, and his last nine holes three strokes.

Hamlin's Estimate of Ormeston.

His 38 for the last nine was the record for the day, Travis being 39. Another hard luck hole was the eighth, where a good drive just went into the reservoir by two feet, costing him a stroke for last ball. Hamlin, his partner, said: "His golf was perfect, his putting deadly and his approaching the best I have seen. He holed many difficult putts."

Where many of the crack golfers fell by the wayside the Western Pennsylvania contestants shone brilliantly, and seven are now in for the match play starting tomorrow.

E. M. Byers just missed tieing for the third cup with an 84, the same score as Egan, the Western favorite. There were but two 83's and one 80 ahead of him, and the 84's were the third in rank until the finish of the play, when Arthur Poole returned an 80. Poole seemed to have a chance to tie both Travis and Ormiston, but after holeing a 20-foot putt on the seventeenth green missed a four-foot one on the home green under the same nervous tension which Ormiston had undergone.

Dr. D. P. Fredericks of Oil City tied with Byers for the second honors among the Pittsburghers with an 84. He had an excellent chance also for a low score, but took eight for the tenth and had two strokes called on him for carelessness in hitting the ball with his putter while gesticulating angrily with it after missing shots.

The Boy Player's Work.

C. B. Fownes, the boy player from Pittsburgh, was a feature of the day with his qualifying score of 91, which tied both O. D. Thompson and W. C. Carnegie. H. C. Fownes returned a 92. W. C. Fownes' illness was a great blow to the Pittsburghers, though he pluckily played and returned a 93.

The youngsters had the better of the veterans in the opening struggle today. Of the 64 who qualified in the medal play at 18 holes, a large proportion were mere boys, comparatively speaking. Many of the veterans fell by the wayside.

Abram Poole, Jr., of Onwentsia, with an 80; Chandler Egan of Exmoor, with 82; Walter Egan of Lake Geneva, with 84, and Allen Hibbard of Milwaukee, with 88, are looked upon as formidable competitors of Ormiston and Travis.

One peculiarity about the play was the tying at 94 of 13 men for the last two places on the qualifying list. These will play off the tie at 8 a. m. tomorrow, when the first round at 18 holes match play in the championship struggle will be called. The second round will be played off in the afternoon. Two rounds at 18 holes will also be played Thursday. On Friday, in the semi-finals, the play will be at 36 holes, as will the final struggle Saturday between the two survivors.

The tie for the gold medal given for the lowest qualifying score will be played off by Travis and Ormisten at their convenience, probably before Saturday.

There were 132 starters in the tournament, one of the largest lists ever trying for championship honors.

A Few of the Scores.

Ormiston's card, which tied the champion, follows:

Out	4	4	4	5	5	6	4	3	41
Bogey	5	4	4	5	5	6	4	3	42
In	4	3	4	5	5	5	4	4	38
Bogey	5	4	4	5	5	5	4	5	41

The champion's score:

Out	4	4	4	5	5	6	3	5	40
In	5	3	4	5	4	5	5	3	39—79

Other scores were:

E. M. Byers, Allegheny, C. C. C.:

Out	5	4	4	5	5	5	3	5	42
In	5	4	4	5	5	6	4	4	42—84

O. D. Thompson, Allegheny County Club: 43—42—85
C. B. Fownes, Highland: 46—45—91
W. C. Carnegie, Allegheny: 47—44—91
Dr. D. P. Frederick, Oil City: 41—43—84

The men with whom the Western Pennsylvania men play tomorrow: G. A. Ormiston, Highland, and John D. Clay, Rock Island arsenal; C. B. Towner, Highland, and F. R. Hamlin, Chicago; H. C. Fownes, Highland, and H. C. Smith, Onwentsia; E. M. Byers, Allegheny, and Howard Giffin, East Orange; W. C. Carnegie, Allegheny, and L. H. Conklin, Princeton, O. D. Thompson, Allegheny, and Frank O. Reinhart, Baltimore; Dr. D. P. Fredericks, Oil City, and W. H. Bennett, Skokie.

John D. Cady, who meets Ormiston tomorrow, is regarded as a strong match player. O. D. Thompson, who meets F. O. Reinhart, who recently defeated Travis, has the hardest man to meet. Carnegie has a hard opponent in a man who defeated Reinhart recently. On the whole, the Pittsburghers have fared well in drawing opponents.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Auspicious Opening of Horse Show. Glass Blowers Adjourn—Boardwalk Fete.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 15.—(Special.)—The fourth annual horse show under the auspices of the Atlantic City association opened under favorable conditions at Inlet park this afternoon. Never before was the crowd so large, and never before were so many fine horses and turnouts shown. The boxes were filled with society notables, and the handsome gowns of the women attracted much attention and favorable comment.

Pittsburgh was represented among today's winners, Charles T. Schoen's Colonel and Flickamarue being awarded third prize in the harness horse pairs.

Among the occupants of the boxes were H. W. Normecutt, Mrs. C. T. Schoen, Mrs. E. N. Grimby, Charles S. Johnson, Rear Admiral Endicott, Mrs. Edward Gibbs Murphy, Senator and Mrs. David Martin, Senator and Mrs. Vare, Col. Thomas Potter, Mrs. Harry Blynn, Mr and Mrs. John Philip Sousa and Miss Emma Stokley.

Glass Bottle Blowers Adjourn.

The work of the Glass Bottle Blowers' convention was completed today. Resolutions bitterly denouncing what was regarded as abuse of the writ of injunction were adopted.

All of the old officers were re-elected as follows: President, Dennis A. Hayes; vice-president, William M. Doughty; national treasurer, Conrad Auth; national secretary, William Lawner; executive board, William St. Clair, E. A. Agard, James J. Dunn, Bernard Balzer, Bernard Bell, Charles McNicolls, and these new members: J. E. Dailey of Mathews, Ind., and Peter Dunn of Baltimore. There are two mayors on the board, Agard of Fairbury, Ill., and Bell of Massillon, O. President Hayes and E. A. Agard were elected delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. Cincinnati was chosen for next year's convention of the bottle blowers, beginning July 6.

Pittsburgh Rates Not Touched.

The members of the Underwriters' association of the middle department, comprising New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Delaware and part of West Virginia, met here yesterday and completed their labors late this afternoon. The proceedings were secret, but The Gazette representative was assured that nothing was done regarding insurance rates in Pittsburgh.

Boardwalk Floral Parade.

A floral parade on the boardwalk is one of the events now in preparation. George Salisbury, a New York theatrical manager, has evolved the idea of a fete along the ocean front on one or more days early in August, similar to what was talked of last year by hotel proprietors. It is proposed to have the boardwalk gaily decorated from Massachusetts avenue to Chelsea. The rolling chairs will be trimmed with artificial flowers, and small floats will be used on which will appear fantastically dressed people. Confetti or paper flowers will be thrown at promenaders.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Prof. Earl Barnes Says All Children Are Persistent Liars.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 15.—(Special.)—Prof. Earl Barnes of Philadelphia gave his second lecture today on "Child Development," the particular division of the subject being "Growth of Intellectual Accuracy; Truth vs. Lies."

Prof. Barnes says it is essential that children should be selfish. If they do not acquire while young, they will have nothing to give when they are older. Were it not for this selfishness, there could be no altruism.

"Children," he says, "lie constantly, uniformly and persistently. There are qualities in their forming minds which prevent them from telling the truth. Truth to them is something to be set aside, something to be juggled with. We older people are, in the eyes of children, egregious liars, misrepresenters of the truth. Some causes for the untruthfulness of children are their imagination, which leads them wildly off; egotism and a desire to show off. Nothing is more foolish than to punish a child for lying, unless it is for a lie told for purely selfish purposes. The lying is only a secondary symptom, and the difficulty is to find the real cause."

The Arts and Crafts held their second conference this afternoon. W. C. Cornwell made the address, taking for his subject "William Morris." Those who knew Morris only as the inventor of the Morris chair were surprised to learn that he was a bookbinder, a weaver, a decorator, an artist and a poet.

The most popular lecture of the day was given by Dr. Schmucker on "The Little Brothers of the Air," by which he meant the birds. He suggested that a better knowledge of them could be had by an opera glass than through a gun.

Baer Resigns from Y. P. S. C. E.

NEW YORK, July 15.—John Willis Baer, secretary of the Christian Endeavor society, has resigned that position to accept one as assistant secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions.

JANITOR PAFF IS A THIEF.

Trusted Employe at the Postoffice Is Under Arrest for Stealing Registered Letters.

Joseph H. Paff, janitor at the postoffice, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing registered letters. Paff, who has been employed as janitor for seven years, had access to all departments and was considered trustworthy. For two months, however, complaints have been coming to Postmaster Holliday of registered letters being stolen from the carriers' boxes and pouches.

Inspector O'Brien, after an investigation, decided that Paff was the guilty party. Monday a "decoy" registered letter addressed to "Myrtle St. Clair, Milwaukee, Wis.," and containing five marked $1 bills and 12 marked postage stamps, was left near where Paff was working. In a short time the letter was missed and on the janitor being searched the money was found. He destroyed the letter and stamps before the officer reached him.

Before United States Commissioner H. D. Gamble Paff confessed. He waived a preliminary hearing and in default of $1,000 bail was committed to jail for trial.

Of the Collars and Cuffs

it is scarcely necessary to praise them. We have conducted these half yearly sales—July and January—for the past seven years. That the collars and cuffs give utmost satisfaction is manifest from the greatly increased sales each recurring season.

The Collars are the same grade that retail regularly for 20c each, and the cuffs are always sold at retail for 25c a pair.

The Negligee Shirts at 75c.

On different occasions we have had Negligee Shirts to sell for 75c, but we owe it to men to say they never came up to our idea of what shirts should be for that price, in a special sale, where specially good values are expected.

This time we determined to have a shirt equal in all respects to what is generally sold for $1.50, or we would not have any.

So we went to New York and bought the madras and percale—then we looked around for a maker—a good one.

Finally down the Delaware river—in a little Jersey town—we ran across a young and pushing American who had a little manufactory in which were a lot of healthy Jersey girls whose nimble fingers were trained to dainty sewing. It was a little community of interests.

And how honestly they did their work! Even to the most careful matching of the little figures and stripes on the pleats with body of shirt.

As true as we are writing this we could sell those shirts for $1.50 and you would be delighted with them.

They are the prettiest figures and stripes, 1 pair detached cuffs with each shirt, and all sizes from 13½ to 17½ neck.

As there are only 3,600 of these Negligee Shirts with pleated bosoms, those who can had best make it a point to choose today.

Neckties to Wear With the Shirts.

2,500 made specially for this sale. Four-in-Hand, light and dark silks and satins, retailing in a regular way for 50c.

Tomorrow 15c—2 for 25c.

NEW TRIALS ARE REFUSED IN TWO DAMAGE CASES

United States District Court Holds a Short Midsummer Session.

TRUSTEE DEFIES ORDER

E. O. Kemmerer Failed to Appear and Answer Contempt Proceedings Brought Against Him—Bankruptcy Petitions Filed and Discharges.

Judge Buffington of the United States circuit court yesterday handed down two opinions. In the case of the Evansville Contract Company against the Ft. Pitt Gas Company a new trial was refused. The plaintiff received a verdict of $33,739 58 for the burning of its dredgeboat, Indiana, by the ignition of gas from a perforated gas main of the defendant which crosses the Ohio river just below the city.

A new trial was also refused in the suit of W. J. McDonald against the Consolidated Steel and Wire Company, in which the plaintiff recovered for injuries received while working for the defendants.

In the United States district court a short session was held by Judge Buffington. Some time ago the court ordered E. O. Kemmerer of Wilkesbarre, trustee in the bankruptcy case of Ganinger & Weller of that place, to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt for refusing to obey a court order. The order was returnable yesterday, but Kemmerer did not appear, neither was he represented by an attorney. He refused to obey an order to pay Mabel Weller $1,204 80, awarded her by the referee in the case for which he is trustee.

Judson D. Coe and Judd Coe, doing business in Clearfield as Coe Bros., against whom a petition in bankruptcy was entered, filed their petition. The firm's liabilities are $3,353 86 and assets $2 720. Individually Judson D. Coe owes $1,238 17 and has assets of $420 75, and Judd Coe's liabilities are $2,222 24 and his assets $410.

An order was made allowing Jacob Shapira to settle with his creditors for 20 cents on the dollar. The trustee has disposed of the property and has $11,500 on hand. Of this amount $4,500 was deposited by Shapira in the bankruptcy court in fulfillment of his agreement to settle on the 20 cent basis.

The following were discharged from bankruptcy: Bernard Berkman, Robert C. Beacon and Joseph Murphy of New Castle, A. T. and W. A. Kreps of Greenville, Charles Judson, Emel and Thomas J. Kelly of Pittsburgh.

Attorney Held for Court.

Attorney L. C. Barton, who will have to serve six months in the workhouse, for embezzlement, has been held for court on another charge of the same kind, entered by Mrs. Eliza Bostard of Swissvale. The plaintiff alleges that Barton collected money for her, for which he has not accounted. The information was entered some time ago, but action was deferred to give him an opportunity to make a settlement.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

By the will of F. W. Screen of the South Side his estate goes to his widow.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of Richard Allen shows a valuation of $6,816.

Anna Vontor sued Joseph Kiest for $500 because he said she stole feathers from his pillow.

John Greer sued Jacob Connor for $10,000 for the alienation of the affections of his wife, Nancy Greer. A capeas was issued for Connor.

A decree in distribution in the estate of Simpson Horner shows a balance of $60,-036 03, and in the estate of John Keil, $1,801 55.

Mary E. Jacobs sued The Pittsburgh Coal Company for $5,000 for the death of her son, Harry, who was killed by an electric wire in the Superior mines.

Executions were issued as follows: Heller & Perrin vs. L. Kraus, $339; W. S. Davies vs. Colter & Davies, $270; William L. Miller vs. J. W. Thompson, $912.

An unusual bequest is made in the will of Peter Vranesic. A pair of oxen in Europe are left to the decedent's parents, while the residue of a small estate goes to his brother, Attorney A. B. Goss represents the estate.

Letters of administration were issued as follows: To Margaret McKelvey on the $10,-000 estate of John McKelvey; to Olive M. Couch on the $2,500 estate of James H. Couch, represented by Attorney George E. Alter; to Anna C. Feick on the $12,000 estate of John C. Feick.

The Sterrett school board filed a statement in quarter sessions court preparatory to the issuance of $75,000 worth of bonds. This is for the purchase of land on Braddock avenue and the erection of a schoolhouse. The indebtedness of the district is $90,000 and the valuation of property $9,182,260.

RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, July 15.—River at 6 p. m., 22.8 feet and rising; weather clear and hot; packets in and out on time. It is stated in coal circles that the last of the Pittsburgh coal fleet will reach here next Friday. The boats which are due from above are the Harvester, S. D. Wood Wood, Tornado, Clifton, Juniata, E. R. Andrews and Mt. Clare. The arrivals today were the Charles Brown and Iron Age. The Hornet No. 2 and Charles Clark passed up this morning with empties. According to reports on the river front today, there will be another boat enter the Madison trade from here. The boat mentioned is the City of Wheeling, a packet which has been plying in the upper river trade.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 8.5 feet; falls, 6.3 feet; foot of locks, 18 feet; business good; weather clear and pleasant; packets in and out on time; the Sam Clark and two arrived at daylight and will go south tomorrow; the Nellie Walton and Faille left for Pittsburgh last night; Capt. Edward Howard has contracted to build a new towboat for the Capital City Oil Company of Baton Rouge.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary; weather clear and warm.

WILL RAISE THE DAM.

Work of Raising Davis Island Structure to Commence Tomorrow.

As coal shipments are at an end and the Ohio river is falling rapidly, the task of raising the Davis island dam likely will be commenced tomorrow. It has been years since the dam has remained down as long as it has this last period, when the time of the year is considered.

Almost 21,000,000 bushels of coal were moved during July, which is considered a phenomenal record. The river is now at a stage considered by packet men as par excellence. A five or six-foot stage of water at Pittsburgh is always to the liking of the packet pilots. The rivermen, however, look for further rises in the rivers and the packet owners hope to see navigation continue on the Ohio river until the middle of August. The packets are all carrying the largest passenger trips in their history.

News of the Rivers.

The Ohio River Sand & Gravel Company is building a new sand digger boat at Port Fulton.

A Telephone will be installed today at the "Yellow" wharfboat. It will be of great use to shippers.

The Rodgers Sand Company is building a large sand hoist at Clairton, where much sand and gravel is being sold.

Capt. J. D. Curtis last night left for his home in Salama, W. Va. He says that hoeing potatoes beats piloting at this season of the year.

The towboat Gleaner handles well since her rudders were repaired and her pilots say that she is now as good as any boat on the Ohio river.

The steamer City of Wheeling will leave Wheeling today for Madison, Ind., where she will be entered in the Cincinnati-Madison trade.

Capt. John Buttonfield is in command of the Voyager, which turned back from Freedom with a tow of coal. Charles Boles is one of her pilots.

The towboat B. D. Wood, on her way south, has 12 coalboats in tow, quite a large tow for her size. Her pilots are Thomas Dunlevy and Harry Swaney.

Capt. Joseph Price is seriously ill at his home in Braddock. He has not been down town since he returned from the south on the Frank Gilmore.

The high stages of water in the Allegheny river seriously interfered with the work of constructing the dam at Springdale, and it cannot be completed this year.

Van A. Reed today takes charge of the Duquesne sand plant of the Rodgers Sand Company. He has been associated with the Rodgers interests for some time.

Wharfmaster Jenkins Jones has a large force at work cleaning the wharf. The wharf certainly smells foul near the waters' edge. The last freshet left large deposits of filth.

Capt. R. D. Wood, who is seriously ill, arrived at New Orleans Sunday night from Detroit. His condition has not improved and he is not expected to live many more weeks.

The various towboat masters report that firemen are scarce. The hot weather caused many of them to quit work and some of the captains were required to pay big wages to get men.

Work progressed yesterday on the snagboat Woodruff, and the indications last night were that the job would be completed some time today. She knocked down her chimneys at Wheeling.

Capt. James A. Henderson, of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet line, said last night that the rainmaker was trying hard to empty nature's sprinkling can and had only partly succeeded. The captain wants more rain, although there is still ample water for the packet business and will be all this week, even if it does not rain.

The Howards have signed a contract for a staunch towing vessel after the lines of the Transit, for the Capital City Oil Company, Baton Rouge, La. Her power will be 16-inch cylinders, and she will be 125 feet long, 25 feet wide and four feet deep. Her name will be Capitol City, and she will be used chiefly in the oil business.

Charles F. Foster, general passenger agent of the new Independent Morgantown packet line, has fitted up a pretty office on the wharfboat. The Elizabeth carried out of Pittsburgh last night the best trip she has had since she entered the Pittsburgh and Morgantown trade. She had almost 100 lower deck passengers, there being 75 Italians and 20 Frenchmen, who are going to Millsboro. In addition to the "second raters" she had 25 round trip passengers.

Towboats now en route south are the Defender, in the lead, with Pilots Frank Lindsey and James White; the J. E. Williams, with Pilots Thomas Martin and Robert Holden; the Harry Brown, with Pilots Charley Nadal and George Clark; the Alice Brown, with Pilots Daniel Kane and Albert Falkner; the Raymond Horner, with Pilots William Haptonstall and Samuel Wood; the Boaz, with Pilots Robert Boles and Thomas Patterson; the W. W. O'Neil, with Pilots Lute Moore and William Smith; the J. B. Finley, with Pilots John Pearce and Henry Nye; the Wash Honshell, with Pilots Clarence Carter and James Martin.

The best of the good things that come and go quickly are the Indian river Florida pineapples. We supply them in any quantity wanted. Car load buyers accommodated. Other fruits and produce fresh daily and cheap. Somers Brothers Company, Nos. 444-446 Seventh avenue. Both telephones.

REMNANTS.

It's July and every dollar's worth of goods in the store goes down a quarter, a third, a half, and even less.

DRESS GOODS DEPT.

Ours is a sort of exclusive stock—the special weaves and patterns. It's to straighten out stocks that we stand this annual July loss. It's a big sacrifice, but we must clean the shelves for next season. Can't enumerate here. You'll see former prices reduced to almost nothing on lots and lots of just the goods you need.

We Carry the Largest Carpet Stock in Our City.

We intend to clean up thoroughly and completely by offering sensational prices. We won't weary you with a long sermon this hot weather about these goods. Here is the plain, unvarnished truth about them. These are prices on full rolls and the remnants are still less:

ROXBURY AND STINSON—These two names stand for everything excellent and dependable in Brussels Carpets. We quote the lowest price ever known on such goods..... 70c

We have another line of Brussels Carpets that we thought cheap at 75c, but we offer you a big selection now at only..... 50c

We've gone over a lot of the regular $1.25 grade of Velvet Carpets—some of the richest patterns you ever looked upon are now only..... 75c

Liberal purchasing will follow as soon as the news spreads that we are offering the $1.75 High Pile Axminster Carpets at..... $1.00

Every Remnant of Linoleum, Oil Cloth or Matting is Less Than Cost.

Hundreds of Lace Curtains Sacrificed

To clear space for the ones that are soon to arrive for Fall, our curtain man went over every pair of Curtains and Portieres and marked them in a way that will surprise you. The higher priced curtains met the biggest cut.

See Our $2.00 Curtains That Are Now $1.25. Big Lot of $1.50 Curtains for Only $1.00.

ALL WALL PAPERS GO LIKE THIS:

Rich Gold Parlor Papers that were 30c and 35c are now 15c. We have a big selection of regular 5c Papers that are now marked 2c.

CONGRESSMAN GILBERT PRAISES ZEMA-CURA.

ZEMA-CURA CURED HIS DAUGHTER OF ACNE, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, AFTER PROMINENT SPECIALISTS HAD FAILED.

Nothing is more distressing to a bright, beautiful girl, just budding into womanhood, than Acne. Red pimples on the face—irritated skin—sometimes a red nose—what could be more annoying or disagreeable? Not only annoying and disagreeable, but dangerous. The pimples may leave, but in their stead remain scars and other disfigurements. Read Congressman Gilbert's letter:

"Dr Harris:—My daughter, Marvin Gilbert, had been troubled with Acne for about five years. She had tried eminent physicians and specialists of different cities, but received no benefit until she begun your treatment, and after two months' treatment I am gratified to say she is entirely well."—C. G. GILBERT, Member Congress, Shelbyville, Ky.

Why should you allow your face to remain a distress to yourself and your friends, when Zema-Cura will promptly cure you? Zema-Cura will make your skin clear and beautiful. Applied externally. Brings instant relief. 50 cents and $1.00.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Urticaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.

Remember! ZEMA-CURA is not one of the many "patent medicines" of the day. It is a doctor's prescription—a scientific compound that has been used for years by its discoverer, Dr. Harris, in daily practice. It has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health. If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

Address: Dr. M. M. HARRIS, The Zema-Cura Co., No. 3 West 22nd Street, New York City.

During the treatment of all skin diseases with ZEMA-CURA, externally, U-AH-MA, Dr. Harris' Blood Purifier, taken internally, will be found of great benefit. By acting on the excretory glands U-AH-MA eliminates the poison virus, and hastens and completes the cure. $1.00. Druggists, or express prepaid.

Newsies Got a Big Fall—William Rothe, 17 years of age, a newsboy living at No. 17 Rush street, Allegheny, fell off a street car in Washington avenue, Allegheny, yesterday. One arm was broken and his head was cut.

Destroyed for Third Time—Miller & Sons' brick yards, Charles street, Allegheny, were destroyed by fire last night. The loss is about $3,000, covered by insurance. This is the third time the yards have burned in eight years.

Killed by a Caving Sewer—Jean Dominick, 35 years of age, employed by Contractor John Sweeney on the sewer being built in the Brighton road, Allegheny, was killed at his work yesterday morning by the sewer caving in.

Glasser Loses a Gem—Nicholas Glasser, a saloonkeeper in Braddock avenue, Braddock, took off a diamond ring, said to be worth $250, yesterday, and laid it down while he washed his hands. The ring was missing when he looked for it.

School Board Selections—At a meeting of the Homestead school board yesterday the First National bank of Homestead was elected treasurer, Miss Rebecca Baker was elected music teacher and John G. Silves was elected solicitor.

Damage Done by a Club—Michael Farrell, 14 years of age, of Main street was struck on the head by a club at the Singer & Nimick mill early yesterday morning and it was necessary for the doctor to take five stitches to close the wound.

Traction Conductors Dropped—About 100 conductors on the different lines of the Pittsburgh Railways Company have been discharged since July 4 because on that date their averages were lower than the officials thought they should be.

Tramp Dies of His Injuries—John Moore, 25 years of age, supposed to be a tramp, died in the McKeesport hospital yesterday morning of injuries received the night before at Scott Haven, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, by being struck by a train.

Aged Farmer Killed—Max Hartman, aged 72 years, one of the best-known farmers in Ross township, fell from a load of hay yesterday afternoon and was killed. Hartman had lived in Ross township for 39 years. He was a widower and is survived by two sons.

Aspinwall War Still On—The trouble between the people of Aspinwall and the Pittsburgh Railways Company has not yet been settled. The people have hose laid and men continually within call to prevent the employes of the street car line making attempt to work the street.

Had a Foot Crushed—Neal O'Donnell, a young man who said he lived in Hazelwood avenue, Pittsburgh, had a foot crushed by being run over by a street car in Second street, Braddock, last night. He claimed to be a nephew of Director A. H. Leslie. He was taken to Mercy hospital.

Twelve Men Sent to Jail—Twelve men, handcuffed in pairs, were taken to jail last evening by two constables of Esplen borough, who made a raid on trespassers on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. In default of fines they were sent to jail for 10 days by Justice W. R. Nicholson.

Ready to Fight Vaccination—The Anti-Vaccination Society of Western Pennsylvania was formally organized at the Monongahela house last night by the adoption of a constitution and by-laws. Dr. Z. T. Miller, the president, read a letter he had sent to Superintendent A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health, in which he had asked a number of questions, and also read the reply, which was far from satisfactory from an anti-vaccination standpoint. If compulsory vaccination is attempted on any member the case will be taken to the highest court.

"Dutch" Murphy Captured—"Dutch" Murphy, 14 years of age, a newsboy, is under arrest at No. 7 police station on a charge of having stolen a watch and bicycle from John Bristweiser of No. 1920 Carson street. The wheel was recovered, but the boy claims that the watch was stolen from him.

Hoodlums Lightly Fined—Five young men, aged between 18 and 20 years, were fined $3 each yesterday by Magistrate J. D. Armstrong for throwing stones into a wagon in which was a party of young folks, the night before, and severely injuring Miss Beatrice Laufman of No. 1107 South avenue, Wilkinsburg.

Quick Work by Motorman—Joseph Long, 6 years of age, of Leechburg, visiting relatives in Harking avenue, North Braddock, was struck by a street car yesterday. Edward King, the motorman, grabbed the boy in time to prevent him from going under the car and saved his life. The boy was a little bruised.

Fire at Hawkins Station—The residence of Henry J. Beacham in Kenmawr avenue, Hawkins station, was damaged by fire to the extent of $1,000 yesterday morning. James Robbins, a Rankin fireman, lost two fingers. Myrtle Steaner, stepdaughter of Beacham, was overcome by fright and was unconscious for two hours.

Has Many Charges to Answer—Robert F. Lee, the Beadling station negro who is alleged to have broken up James Williams' home, has been held for court by Alderman Downey on charges of aggravated assault and battery, surety of the peace, carrying concealed weapons and selling liquor on Sunday and without a license.

Last Week's Mortality—There were 355 deaths in Pittsburgh last week, and 77 of them were children under 10 years of age. The principal causes of death were diarrhoea 23, scarlet fever 8, typhoid fever 6, measles 5, whooping cough 5, pneumonia 10, consumption 5 and violence 15. During the week there were reported 50 cases of typhoid fever, 26 of scarlet fever and 7 of diphtheria.

Wanted in Rochester—Detective William McGuire of Rochester, N. Y., accompanied by Detective Thomas O'Brien of Allegheny, yesterday arrested George Beaumeyer, who is wanted in Rochester on three charges of forgery. Beaumeyer and his family had come to Pittsburgh to live in the East End. Beaumeyer said last night that he anticipated no trouble and accompanied McGuire to Rochester.

Rear-End Collision—A rear-end collision occurred last evening at the corner of Penn and Negley avenues, East End, between two cars of the Center and Negley avenue line. Both cars were badly damaged. A passenger, Miss Lizzie Mooney of No. 5117 Carnegie avenue, who was in the foremost car, was rendered unconscious, but after receiving medical attention she revived sufficiently to be taken to her home.

Row Took Place in the Street—The disagreement between James Lappan, the 80-year-old boiler maker, and James Carr, last Saturday night, which ended in Carr being so punished that he had to be taken to the hospital, did not occur in J. P. Cowan's saloon, No. 6025 Penn avenue, as was reported, but several doors from there on the street. Lappan has given bail for a hearing. He claims to have simply defended himself.

Romantic West Enders Elope—Homer L. McGaw, Jr., and Miss Mary Ziegler, both well and favorably known in the West End, where they were both born and raised, are reported to have eloped, got married somewhere, and are now traveling in Canada. There was no reason whatever why they should not have been married at home, as the families have always been very friendly and the young folks have grown up together.

Last Night's Park Concerts—Several thousand people attended the concert in Highland park last night. It was given by the Knights of Pythias band, which rendered a popular program. The concert will be repeated at Schenley park tomorrow night. West park, Allegheny, also had a large crowd last night, drawn to that breathing spot by the American Military band, which gave a delightful concert. The same band will play at Riverview park Friday evening.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 15.—Charters were issued by the state department today to the following corporations: National Artificial Limb and Brace Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, capital, $5,000; George Bros., Pittsburgh, capital, $10,000; Park View Land Company, DuBois, capital, $25,000.

Small Oil Wells Reported Yesterday

Small producers and not a few dusters was the best the Lower Southwest fields could do yesterday. The best well reported from any quarter was Mallory Bros. & Co.'s No. 5 on the Jacob Morrison farm, located on Rock Run, Ritchie county, W. Va. When drilled into the Maxon sand the well began to flow at the rate of 200 barrels a day.

In the Big Knot Run district the Three Joes Oil Company's No. 1 on the Elroy Wagner farm is holding up at 500 barrels a day. Under agitation the well produces at the rate of more than 500 barrels a day.

In the Buffalo Run district, in Wetzel county, the Kanawha Oil Company has drilled its No. 26 on the John Miller tract into the Gordon sand and has a small show of oil. It will be shot and tested and may make a small pumper.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the T. F. McIlvaine farm into the Gordon and had developed a strong gas pressure. The well is spraying a little oil and will be drilled deeper when the gas pressure has subsided.

In the same district the test on the L. E. Dobbs farm has been drilled into the top of the Gordon and has some gas, but no oil.

Near Stewart Station, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 14 on the M. T. Smith farm through the Big Injun sand and has a duster.

In the Ilens Run district, Pleasants county, Schlagel & Field have drilled their No. 7 on the Rebecca Way farm through the Big Injun sand and have a duster.

In the Eureka district, Tate & Patterson have completed and put their No. 1 on the W. H. Dye farm to pumping, and have a 15-barrel producer.

In the Burning Spring district, Wirt county, W. C. Patterson & Co. have drilled their No. 2 on the G. H. White farm through the Big Injun and found that formation barren. It will make a small pumper from the shallow sand.

In the same district Pope Bros. & Co. have completed No. 15 on the Frank Rex farm and have a 15-barrel pumper in the Big Injun.

In the Gordon territory in Harrison county, near the Wetzel county line, the Delmar Oil Company is still fishing for tools lost in its test on the William T. Lee farm. The well is producing about 20 barrels a day with the tools in the hole.

Southeastern Ohio Territory.

In the Parsons Keener sand development, northwest of Rhoads Mills, Morgan county, O., Charles S. Cameron and H. H. Boyd have completed their No. 2 on the J. W. Grange farm and have a 20-barrel producer in the Keener sand.

In the same development the Carter Oil Company has completed its test on the Albert Cronin farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the Maxon sand.

In the Graysville district, the Fisher Oil Company has completed its No. 6 on the L. T. Morris farm and will have a 5-barrel pumper in the Big Injun sand.

In the Macksburg field, Washington county, G. W. Dawson has completed his No. 4 on the C. F. Adams farm and has a small pumper in the Berea sand. E. M. Johnson has drilled No. 6 Henry Nau and the Devol Farm Oil Company has drilled No. 1 on the F. Devol farm through the same formation and both are dusters.

In the Wilking district, Alexander Landon & Co. have drilled their test on the Horn farm through the sand and have a 5-barrel pumper.

In the same district the Portage Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the William Preiss farm and has a 15-barrel pumper.

In the Sand Hill district, L. L. Angel has completed his No. 5 on the C. Conrad farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper on the Cow Run sand.

In the Wolf Creek district, Morgan county, Charles Cameron has drilled in No. 17 on the N. E. Russell farm and has a producer good for 100 barrels a day from the shallow sand.

On McIntire creek, Jefferson county the Ann Oil Company and E. S. Dickey have drilled in a second test on the McClelland Snyder farm and have a show for a 20-barrel producer. This is a better showing than has been the rule in that territory.

In the Carson pool, Hancock county, W. Va., Levonte, Garrett & Co. have drilled in their No. 15 on the S. Carson farm and have a 60-barrel producer.

In Allegheny county, three miles northwest of Redpath pumping station, the Forest Oil Company is drilling a test on the Curry farm.

CARNEGIE'S NEW GIFT HAS MANY UNIQUE POINTS

Something About the Technological School Plans He Now Has.

MUCH SPACE IS REQUIRED

Magnitude of What the Philanthropist Has in Contemplation Has Not Yet Dawned on the People—Two Local Branches Provided For.

The plans formed and drawn up by the board of experts to whom was delegated that work, for the opening and carrying on of the work of the technological school which Andrew Carnegie has offered to the city of Pittsburgh, and which the city is remarkably slow in accepting, are now in the possession of Mr. Carnegie. These plans are subject to change to suit Mr. Carnegie's ideas. While the members of the committee on plan and scope, and members of the board of experts are keeping the contents of the report remarkably quiet, it is known that they are for such a school as the world does not now contain, and which introduces lines of training such as are taught in no other institution on the face of the earth.

Nothing is to be done until Mr. Carnegie has thoroughly considered those plans and notified the committee what to do. The report is a comprehensive one. Branches can be eradicated here and there, and still leave the other branches complete.

Magnitude of Plans Not Yet Known.

For such a school as is contemplated in these plans the 52-acre tract of land north of Fifth avenue, the property of Mrs. Mary E. Schenley, seems to many to be absolutely necessary. It is said that the magnitude of this enterprise will not fully dawn upon the people of Pittsburgh until they become thoroughly acquainted with the plans.

In this school will be taught two branches which were never taught in any school before. They are the science and art of steel construction, the building of great structures with steel and the science and art of petroleum and kindred products. These are of great importance to Pittsburgh and vicinity, for a great deal of structural steel is manufactured here, and it is the center of a great oil-producing country. These two branches alone will require a great deal of room in the new institution.

The board of experts in their report state that they expect there will be 3,600 pupils attend the school the first year it is opened. A day and night school is planned. Within a radius of 60 miles of Pittsburgh, the committee says, there are 120,000 young people.

Opportunities for Women.

The experts recommend that the various buildings should be low, with facilities for plenty of light from the top, as Pittsburgh is a very dark city. They state in their report that the experience of similar schools elsewhere in this country has shown that the attendance increases 10 per cent. each year. They say that in five years there will be 4,500 pupils attending the school. For that reason the experts earnestly recommend that ample provision be made for the increase in attendance.

The report is very extensive and exhaustive with regard to the branches that are to be studied by women. The fine arts are to get a great deal of attention. Other branches that women ought to be familiar with to make them of use in the world will be taught at this institution. Women will be graduated who will be able to take charge of hospitals as matrons, to take charge of schools of all kinds, to take preceptorships in similar institutions and to take charge of eleemosynary institutions of all kinds. Everything that women ought to know will be taught.

The board of experts have not completed all the work laid out for them to do, as has been popularly supposed. After Mr. Carnegie has indicated what he wants, and after the city has furnished a site large enough to accommodate the school as planned, the experts will take these plans and finish them.

Councils Slow to Act.

No word has been received by the committee concerning these plans, from Mr. Carnegie. It is believed that he will make a personal trip to Pittsburgh and bring the plans with him, so anxious is he that the school established here shall be worthy of himself and of Pittsburgh.

The joint committee of Pittsburgh councils, which is to confer with the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute concerning the site, has not yet been appointed. Both branches of councils have authorized their appointment. Neither President C. S. Crawford of common council, nor President John S. Lambie of select, have yet named any members.

A great deal of discussion has arisen as to what site Mr. Carnegie favors for the technological school. Some local friends of Mr. Carnegie say that he favors the 11-acre tract on Forbes street. Prof. John A. Brashear, who knows the steel master intimately, and W. N. Frew, president of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute, who has handled all of Mr. Carnegie's Pittsburgh benefactions, say that he would be delighted with the 52-acre tract north of Fifth avenue, because it would give him room to extend this school, and make it the greatest in the world. To Mr. Brashear, Mr. Carnegie expressed himself, while he was traveling with him to Pittsburgh from New York, upon the occasion of his last visit.

Greater Tract, Greater School.

Mr. Carnegie told Mr. Brashear that he would build a school that would fit the tract; that a greater tract would bring a greater school, but that he would not dictate to the people where the school should be. Mr. Frew dined with Mr. Carnegie upon the occasion of his last visit to Pittsburgh, and Mr. Carnegie told him at that time, substantially what he told Mr. Brashear.

The city has $360,000 with which to buy site. Mrs. Schenley's 32-acre tract will cost about $850,000. Her 52-acre tract will cost about $1,400,000. The 11-acre tract lying along Forbes street, between Boquet street and the park, is said to be held at $400,000. George W. Wilson took up the matter when he was director of public works, and the price then was said to be $500,000.

The committee on plan and scope would not consider this tract without the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church property also, and this would increase the price to $550,000, under the revised figures. So that the city would have to provide $120,000 more to buy either the Forbes street site or the 52-acre tract.

There are now on the city statute books two ordinances authorizing condemnation proceedings to secure the Oakland church property, and the 11 acres lying between the church property and the park. These can be acted upon any time the city solicitor is instructed to do so. The city could get possession of this within a month by asking the court to appoint viewers and giving bond to indemnify the estate.

Switzerland in Canada.

At a point 145 miles north of Toronto on the Grand Trunk railway system is reached one of the most magnificent districts in the Highlands of Ontario, and which has been named by many world-wide travelers the "Switzerland of America." The region is known as the Lake of Bays district and comprises a series of connected lakes, over which large steamers are navigated. What greatly adds to the Lake of Bays value as a health-giving and sporting resort is its unmatched purity of the air one breathes upon its heights. The cranky grumbler, unless he is a confirmed dyspeptic, forgets his ills under its reviving influence in less than a week, and sees life's problems in a smoother light if he only has the sense and capacity to enjoy the good things in this life which nature and Providence have prepared for him. The whole region is placed high above the level of Lake Ontario, and its bracing morning breeze, which gives the celebrated atmosphere of Pike's Peak, Col., imparts new lung power and fresh vitality.

For all information, full particulars, descriptive matter, maps, etc., write G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, Canada.

COOL BODIES.

Made by Appetizing Food.

You can feel as "fit as a lord" in hot weather if you eat sensibly. If you aren't entirely happy in hot weather suppose you quit your way and try ours.

Take a cold sponge bath, dress leisurely and sit down to a breakfast of Grape-Nuts and cream, a little fruit and a cup of Postum Food Coffee. Don't fear, you won't starve; on the contrary, that "lordly feeling" will take possession of you by lunch time.

Grape-Nuts is a concentrated food and contains as much nourishment as bulky body-heating food like meat, potatoes, etc. Its crisp daintiness will appeal to your palate and the result is a very marked difference in the temperature of the body and the certainty of ease and perfect digestion.

Quit coffee; it unnaturally stimulates the brain and nerves, heating the body and causing an uneven temper; use Postum Food Coffee; has a charming flavor when properly made and does not affect the nervous system, but assists the brain to work with ease and clearness.

Experience and experiment in food and its application to the human body has brought out these facts. They can be made use of and add materially to the comfort of the user during the hot weather.

Look through the recipe book in each Grape-Nuts package for delicious puddings, entrees, salads and desserts.

Figures That Are Startling.

In the reply of the United States Steel Corporation to the suit to prevent it from converting preferred stock into bonds there is a startling revelation of the earning power of the vast concern. President Schwab estimates the amount at $140,000,000, a sum that surpasses the wildest dreams of financiers of two decades ago. The late Jay Gould left a fortune at his death estimated at $125,000,000, and people marveled that one man could accumulate so much in a lifetime. Here is a corporation that earns $15,000,000 more than that in a single year.

The significance in the statement, however, is not so much in the size of the figures as in the fact that they are much larger than any one year's earnings of the constituent properties. The consolidation has had the result of increasing the earnings of the underlying corporations by reason of the economies growing out of combined effort.

Corn and Its Cornerers.

The corn cornerers who met with punishment in the grain pit of Chicago yesterday will apply in vain for sympathy from the general public just as the shorts, who were driven into the corner previously, received no commiseration. The managers of the corner succeeded in working the price of the July option up to 90 cents less than a fortnight ago, thus presenting to the American public the inspiring sight of corn selling considerably higher than wheat. These altitudinous figures attracted corn to Chicago by the trainload, and when yesterday's inspection sheets showed 827 cars of receipts, the speculative price dropped with a thud that must have been sickening to the bulls.

Of course, the cornerers could not have run the price up in the way they did if other persons had not sold grain which they did not possess, hoping to buy it at a lower price before the time for settlement arrived. Then the bulls proceeded to make July corn scarce, thus compelling the bears to climb high after the grain they needed to close their accounts. Subsequently the farmers came with their supplies, and nature, with her promise of a big crop, got into the game and the cornerers' plans went awry.

Educational Enthusiasm.

There seems to be no abatement in the widespread educational movements of the country because of the incoming hot weather. Conventions, assemblies, institutes, Chautauquas and educational meetings of various degrees of importance have been, or are yet to be, held at different points in the country, north, south, east and west. Judged by the recurrence of these summer activities, coupled with the immense donations that are from time to time being made to the cause, it would seem as though the United States was really "education mad." And yet with all that has been done in the way of making knowledge easy to obtain there still remains so much to be done that some educational workers are in despair over the outlook. The constant influx of a foreign population, the slow progress that modern educational efforts have made in certain sections of the country, especially in the south, are among the discouraging features that educators deplore. In this connection it is gratifying to learn from the Atlanta Constitution that never in the history of the south since the war has there been such general and widespread interest taken in educational movements of every description. There is abnormal illiteracy in the south, due to the presence of the colored race in such excessive numbers, but even among these great headway has been made in recent years through the practical example of men like Booker Washington, whose Tuskegee institute has been made a model after which many like institutes are being planned. It is impossible to estimate the vast good that will follow the national enthusiasm for education if it only be wisely directed and the fruits be rightly preserved.

The Technological School Site.

Common council has passed the resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of seven members of councils, four from the common branch and three from the select, to confer with the trustees of the Carnegie institute concerning a site for the technological school.

The resolution had previously passed select council, so that all that now remains is for the presidents of councils to appoint the members of the committee and for the latter to go to work with the trustees. The people of Pittsburgh will applaud an early meeting for business of the trustees with the councilmanic committee. They have wondered at the delay in securing a site and are impatient that one be secured as speedily as possible, so that the work of erecting the buildings for which Mr. Carnegie has been ready for two years to furnish the money may be begun speedily. The people are concerned about the site, principally because until it is selected they cannot get the school, but they are concerned also about the cost of the site. They will not welcome a selection that will necessitate an issue of bonds and that will cause further delay. But now that councils have provided for a committee to cooperate with the trustees there is ground for hope that the period of procrastination is at an end and that the site will be selected and ready for occupancy long before the snow flies. The people need the school and Mr. Carnegie wants to give it to them. There is no good reason why the wishes of the people and Mr. Carnegie should not be soon realized, and a site should be selected that will be within the means of the city to purchase.

Gen. Bragg's Injudicious Comment.

It was Gen. Bragg who declared that Grover Cleveland was loved for the enemies he had made. Gen. Bragg has just made some enemies on his own account, but no one will love him for it. The Wisconsin gentleman is consul general at Havana, and in writing home to his wife at Fond du Lac he is said to have expressed the opinion that Uncle Sam might as well try to make a whistle out of a pig's tail as to try to make something out of the Latin race. Gen. Bragg declares that isn't just the way he said it, but admits enough to show that he said something not complimentary. Whatever the precise language, Mrs. Bragg thought that the opinion was good enough to show to a few friends, the result being the published version. Now Mrs. Bragg wishes she had not showed it and the general wishes he had not written it. The Cuban minister to the United States has cabled to President Palma for instructions. The state department cabled to Gen. Bragg for an explanation, and received the reply, "Publication unauthorized," and altogether the matter has stirred up a little trouble.

It is true that Gen. Bragg is not the American minister to Cuba, and it is also true that he wrote not for publication, but for the information of his wife; but it looks as though he had destroyed his usefulness in Havana and had better give way to a consul general who will devote his letters to his wife principally to informing her that he loves her still and can scarcely endure the enforced separation.

Criminal Cupidity.

One of the deplorable phases of human nature was exposed in connection with the mine disaster at Johnstown. The attempts to bunco the Cambria Relief Association out of the sum allowed for funeral expenses, or the $1,000 death benefits intended for the relief of families, were numerous and by no means confined to persons with previously unsavory reputations. In the normal human mind the calamity awoke sympathy and the generous desire to assuage the grief or suffering of stricken relatives. To others it only offered an opportunity for plunder. It is difficult to understand the cupidity that would rob the widow and orphan, and it is hard to excuse it on any ground. Should the coroner's inquest disclose the individuals who made such attempts, there ought to be no hesitation on the part of those who control the machinery of justice about putting it into effective motion.

The Suicide Season.

Whether justified by the facts or not, the assumption seems to be commonly accepted that excessively warm and humid weather is invariably accompanied by an epidemic of suicides. It is certain, however, that there has been within recent years a marked increase in the number of suicides in this country from apparently simple causes, showing that this resort to desperate and final means to settle real or imaginary problems of life has grown less obnoxious in its appeal to people reared under civilized influences. It is no unusual thing now to read of a man committing suicide because his meals were not cooked to suit him, or because he had lost his position. Women rush out of life because of a lovers' quarrel, and only recently the story of a woman killing herself because of grief over the death of a pet dog was published in a Philadelphia newspaper.

Children are not exempt from the suicidal mania, the number of suicides in this class being alarmingly great within the past few years. A statement issued from the war department reveals the fact that self-murder has increased among the soldiers in the United States, both at home and among those who are stationed in foreign fields. All these facts make the subject of suicide a serious one, apart altogether from its greater frequency in any one season, which we judge is a matter of conjecture rather than of fact. Statistics prove that suicide is on the increase the world over, but, gratifying to say, not so markedly in this country as in European countries. In the United States the average suicide rate is now only about thirty in a million of population. In Saxony and Denmark the figure reaches the startling proportion of 350 to the million inhabitants.

Are They Genuine Bloodhounds?

It would be interesting to know whether the bloodhounds that Henry Tracy eludes so easily in his sprinting across the landscape in the far northwest are genuine bloodhounds or only weak imitations like those that travel with "Uncle Tom's Cabin" companies. According to the reports which come from the chasers of that escaped convict, Tracy has little or no difficulty in throwing the dogs off his trail. Several articles on bloodhounds have been printed lately in the magazines, and their virtues as criminal catchers set forth with large praise. The writers of these articles take care to point out that it is only the pure-blooded hound that will take the trail and stick to it despite all obstacles, and with a patience which no difficulties can weary. The use of bloodhounds has been advocated as a means of capturing murderers and burglars, and many stories of the intelligence and skill of these creatures are told in the sections where they are employed. They have run down criminals that the authorities had found it impossible to capture, thus proving themselves valuable allies of the detectives and police.

Mad Dogs and Other Dogs.

Commenting on an editorial of The Gazette, in which it was said that "Not all dogs that show fury and bite are mad dogs, and not all the people who die after being bitten are victims of hydrophobia," but that "a majority of them are victims of their own imaginations," the Chicago Record-Herald says:

> These statements may be true enough, and it undoubtedly is unfortunate that people sometimes permit themselves to be scared to death. But why should dogs that are merely vicious be permitted to run at large? Why should dogs of any kind be left to roam at will? Most people have the good taste to keep their children from tearing around through the streets and over their neighbors' lawns and from being public nuisances. Why should their dogs be exempt from restrictions? If dogs were not left to run loose there would be no unwarranted mad dog scares.

The point is a good one. Vicious dogs should be treated as nuisances and suppressed as such. However, in dealing with the matter that has called out the comment of the Record-Herald, The Gazette devoted itself to the human and not to the dog phase of the subject. The intention was clearly to reassure the people, not to justify the dogs. Vicious dogs should be disposed of, and some people think that all dogs should be disposed of, or at least that none should be permitted to roam at large. But the fact remains that dogs not ordinarily vicious may be goaded to snap and bite, and that not all dogs that snap and bite are affected with hydrophobia. Therefore persons who may be so unfortunate as to be bitten should not give way to their fears and imagine themselves victims of rabies.

In another column a correspondent makes a suggestion about filtered water that is worth looking into. It should not be a very expensive plan to take the advantage of nature's filtering in that way and experience has proven water obtained in that way to be good. Possibly the system might not be equal to the elaborate filtration beds planned to cost a million more than the funds available, but it would be vastly better than the present water supply.

Inadvertently, the other day the address of Wilbur F. Wakeman, secretary of the American Protective Tariff league, was given as Washington, D. C. It should have been No. 135 West Twenty-third street, New York.

Prof. Burt's theory that John Quincy Adams was the author of the Monroe doctrine is of no comfort to Europeans who would like to see that doctrine abrogated. It is still in good working order.

Americans who have been taking orders in South Africa are now putting freight rates from New York to Natal below the rates from London and John Bull is suffering from another spasm.

It's a good thing the Chicago's crew were not in Venice when the campanile of St. Mark's toppled. The American sailor men might have been accused of pushing it over.

Venice can't get along without the campanile of St. Mark's and has raised money to re-raise the tower.

The weather man will now please be good for the two consecutive days of the orphans' picnic.

The letter now on its way from Gen. to Mrs. Bragg would make even more interesting reading.

McKeesport is wearing horns.

"Bunco'ed" by a Friend.

From the New York Times.

"I am going to give up being good-natured," declared John W. Gates, knitting his jovial face with a frown. "When Louisville & Nashville was going up under pressure of my buying, a speculator came to me and said:

"'Say, Gates, I want $5,000. I've got a sure thing.'

"'All right,' said I, giving him my check.

"Next day he paid the loan, remarking that he had put the money as margin and had cleared nearly $2,000.

"'What did you buy?' I asked.

"'L. & N.,' he answered, with a grin.

"'Hang me, if he hadn't bought the stock with my money, held it against me, and made me pay two points more for it, taking the $2,000 right out of my own pocket.'

EYES TURNED UPON WESTERN PLUNGER

John W. Gates the Center of Interest on New York 'Change.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 15.

John W. Gates is at the Waldorf-Astoria. As soon as he arrived from Chicago last night he went to the Waldorf, and in a short time was in bed and, presumably asleep. He was up and about early and responded in his usual hearty, off-hand way to the greetings hurled at him from all sides. The mere fact that he has been manipulating a gigantic corner in corn does not prevent his being as hail-fellow-well-met with his friends as ever he was. He looks as if his trip to the West had done him good. His face is ruddy and there is the old twinkle in his eyes which has been known to portend so many big deals that have meant increased wealth for John W. Gates. He was at the hotel all the forenoon, directing operations on 'change, and most of the time there was a cigar in his mouth at an angle of sublime impudence. That is his usual aspect when he is busy. There was a continual stream of people passing through the corridors in the hotel all the morning, the object being to catch a glimpse of the speculator who has been in the public eye so much for the last week or two; but Gates knows how to fend off that kind of thing, and scores of people looked into his face today who had not the remotest idea that the plain, stout man with the gray mustache was the John W. Gates about whom they have been reading in the papers every day, no matter what city they may have been in. There was a meeting this afternoon at the office of Harris, Gates & Co., but, of course, it was behind closed doors. All the members of the firm were present, including, besides the famous John W., his son, Charlie, John F. Harris and Isaac L. Elwood, who arrived in a party from Chicago last night. The only information that came from the firm today was from John F. Harris, who said: "We are still buying corn and paying for it, and will continue to do so all through this month." John W. Gates did not speak, but he nodded approval.

Pittsburgher in Amusement Line.

Pittsburghers are coming to the front in New York amusement circles, as well as in steel and iron and in Fifth avenue residences. It is whispered along the Rialto that W. N. Adams of the American Oil Company is interested in the new theater now building in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, and that he will be active in its management when it opens in the fall. Mr. Adams may be met in theatrical offices along upper Broadway pretty often, but he is not prepared yet to say what his connection with the new house in Harlem will be. It is announced to open in September as a high-class combination theater.

No Affair of the Public's.

President Vreeland of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company is too public-spirited a man to utter the famous remark attributed to the late W. H. Vanderbilt, "The public be ——;" but he insists that the trouble with the health department over the fumes of sulphuric acid from the storage batteries of the Thirty-fourth street cross-town cars is not a matter of public concern. He said so today. Still, as the fumes are extremely annoying to passengers, there may be reason for thinking that the public have something at stake in the discussion. The main thing, however, is that the company will take steps to stop the trouble.

Looking to Uncle Sam for Supplies.

Uncle Sam is depended on by many countries, large and small, for their shipping. This is an old story, but it has new significance today on account of the arrival at this port on the steamship Athos, from Port Limon, of A. Villasenor, a representative of the government of Costa Rica. He comes to purchase machinery and small vessels for the customs service of his country.

Police Over a Volcano.

The police of New York generally feel as if they are over a volcano. The inevitable "shake-up" now and then is always worrying them, although when it does come they do not find it any the less dreadful because they have feared it. Mayor Low said today that he does not believe in letting such a large body of men as the New York police department go to sleep. This is understood to mean that there will soon be a general turning over, in the course of which captains may find themselves shot from one end of Greater New York to the other, while patrolmen, roundsmen and such small fry are scattered promiscuously, like a pond into which a great boulder has been dropped.

How Small Boys Court Death.

"Flipping" on cars is a boyish sport in New York, as it is in Pittsburgh and every other city where street cars are known. It is assumed that everyone knows the meaning of the elegant expression, "flipping," to be stealing rides. The urchins jump on the rear platforms or runningboards and take a joyous chance of being killed, with the airy carelessness peculiar to their sex and time of life. The Metropolitan street railway here has taken up a steady crusade against the practice. The company does not want to be drawn into litigation on the subject of damages for boys' lives, and therefore is arresting all the offending boys it can get its hands on. Seventeen youths were arraigned in the Tombs police court today and all fined $2 each. Up to the present 139 boys have been arrested; but it looks as if 199 more of them may be caught before there is any noticeable falling off in the game. "Flipping" is a great temptation to a healthy boy, no matter where you put him.

Walling Up Coney Island.

To prevent the high surf from destroying the plants and trees in the new Seaside park at Coney island during the winter Park Commissioner Young of Brooklyn is to build a stone wall on the ocean side of the park. The wall will be about four feet high and made ornamental. It is well that the park is to be protected in this way, but habitues of Coney will think that it might be wise to put a wall right around the island, to save some of the bath houses, photograph galleries and other light buildings that usually go out to sea every winter when the gales fairly begin for the cold weather.

"Martinique" Bill Devery.

There certainly was "something doin'" in "Big Chief" Devery's district on the West Side last night, and the noise of it could be heard for miles either way. This is the style in which it is described by a "party" last night: "Poor old Eighth avenue is all out of joint today. It seems as crooked as a Sing Sing card party. Nothing is going straight. Street cars are doing serpentine dances and staggering hopelessly. Each of them jumps the track promptly when it reaches No. 264. Passengers rush pell-mell into the building and send a bit of foam flickering for the glory and the honor of William S. Devery. Never was man more loved in Eighth avenue than 'Martinique Bill,' the only human volcano ever born in captivity, is today. Last night he brayed and bought beer by the barrel. His braying will go down in history as the political classic of the district. His braying will be town talk for generations to come."

Steamships Nearly Come Together.

Although the North river is a wide stream it is hardly wide enough for the maneuvers of big liners when several start together. The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse of the North German Lloyd line and the steamship Moltke of the Hamburg-American line, two of the biggest ships in the trans-Atlantic service, had a narrow escape from running into each other today. Both steamships were due to leave at 10 o'clock, but the Moltke left a little late. The Kaiser Wilhelm had left her slip at the foot of West Twelfth street on time and had backed into the middle of the river. The tide, which was running strong, helped to turn her nose around, and soon she began to speed down the river. A crowd of about 1,000 persons were assembled on the pier front, cheering and waving their handkerchiefs, when, suddenly, they saw the Moltke shoot out from her slip, placing herself right in front of the other ship. There was an exciting minute or two, and people ashore held their breath in apprehension, but good seamanship prevailed and the two vessels managed to pass so close that they seemed almost to scrape each other, and the peril was over.

The Dalzells Going Abroad.

John Dalzell and Samuel Dalzell of Pittsburgh will be passengers on the American liner St. Paul when she sails from New York tomorrow for Southampton.

A Craze for Underground Railroads.

Underground railroads are the only means of locomotion for the future in some parts of New York, it seems. It is true there will continue to be a few paltry thousands of miles of trolley lines, "L" railways and so on, but the underground route will be the favorite, if one may judge by present indications. Some of the dealers in Wallabout market want an underground electric railway beneath that historic market place, and they may get it. Controller Grout has it under consideration. The applicants want the permission to build such a railroad 1,500 feet long to carry freight, beef, provisions and merchandise for the many dealers in the market.

Theatrical Men's New Club.

New York has its "green room club" at last. Such an organization has been craved for many years, because London has one, and theatrical men visiting England have maintained that it is the ne plus ultra of club comfort for men in their profession. The club in this city was launched last night, when the local lodge of the Actors' Order of Friendship voted to extend the hospitality of its house at 139 West Forty-seventh street to such an organization of theatrical folk. For alterations and furniture a bond issue of $5,000 was authorized. The order immediately took half the bonds, and $1,500 more were subscribed for. The new club will be in existence by October. Committees were appointed to attend to various details and applications for membership will be considered at once.

Actors Waiting for Frohman.

Our own Charles Frohman is coming back to his beloved New York. He will sail from Southampton tomorrow on the Kronprinz Wilhelm. The importance of this home-coming to the Rialto here cannot be over-estimated. There are some thousands of actors in town who have not yet "signed" for next season, and they will all be after Frohman when he gets to town. Not many of them will get an opportunity of speaking to him, but that does not worry them. They feel sure that they will be able to lay their talents before him somehow and that when he comes to make up his numerous casts he will feel that he must have each particular actor on the curb to round out his dramatis personae. It is the same story every summer. Charles Frohman is so used to it that he sneaks into his private office by a secret stairway and back door, as naturally as he eats his breakfast in the morning. When his steamer reaches the pier there will be a crowd to welcome him only a little smaller than that which gathered to do honor to Prince Henry when he arrived in New York. And, after all, what was the Kaiser's brother, compared with the Napoleon of amusements?

Boer Soldiers in New York.

It is said that the Boer privates who arrived in New York yesterday will be able to sail for South Africa on the 23d inst. There were crowds of curious people in the corridors of the Union Square hotel today, gazing at the men who have just got here from the prison camps of Bermuda. The Boers are an interesting but not greatly interested lot of men. They remained closely about the hotel hall and stood or sat together in groups, talking in low voices or watching the curious onlookers. Now and then several would go out under the leadership of someone acquainted with the city to buy at the big stores. They are sunbrowned and bewhiskered, of a type peculiarly their own, and attracted attention wherever they went. A great deal of Boer talk was heard in the hotel lobby, but it is not the talk of the Boers themselves. They are a silent, reserved lot of men, who have taken the oath of allegiance to King Edward, and who have grave misgivings as to what conditions they shall find in Africa. "We cannot talk," was the answer they generally gave when questioned: "whatever we say will be read by the men now in authority in our country, and we are going back to try and live in peace."

Morgan's Gift of Gems.

No one here knows the value of the two magnificent sapphires which J. Pierpont Morgan has given to the American Museum of Natural History in this city. They are to be added to the collection presented by him to the institution. This collection, which is considered among the finest existing, was gathered by Tiffany & Co. to be exhibited at the Paris exposition, after which it was bought by Mr. Morgan at great cost. Prof. Bumpus, director of the museum, said today that the value of the collection had never been appraised exactly, so far as he knew.

BRADDOCK MEMORIAL MOVE.

Residents of Braddock Take Action Looking to Location of Famous Battlefield.

About 30 residents of Braddock met last night in response to a call to decide on taking some action for a monument to Gen. Braddock, or a monument to mark the battlefield. Prof. George H. Lamb presided, and F. D. Louis was secretary.

A committee of nine was appointed to locate the battlefield and report at a future meeting. The secretary was instructed to communicate with patriotic associations and endeavor to get them interested. It was decided to request Congressman Dalzell to make an effort to induce the United States to place a monument on the field.

Entitled to It.

From the Chicago Tribune.

"Can't you shoot offhand?" jeered the farmer boy.

"I can," stiffly replied the city sportsman; "but I prefer to take a rest. I'm on my vacation."

THE IRON CROWN CAUSE OF DISPUTE

Controversy Between Vatican and Quirinal Over Possession.

THE MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Another source of discord has arisen between the vatican and the quirinal. It is in connection with the possession of the iron crown of Lombardy, which has hitherto been in the custody of the Chapter of the Cathedral at Monza. But so much difficulty was experienced by the government in getting the cathedral authorities to surrender it for a few days at the time of the funeral of Humbert, in order to figure on a cushion by the side of his remains, that the present king and his government have come to the conclusion that the crown must be turned over without further delay to the state to be preserved by responsible officials along with the other regalia of the kingdom.

The iron crown is considered as the principal feature of the regalia of the kings of Italy, and it is regarded at the quirinal as preposterous that under the circumstances it should remain in the possession and in the care of clergy over whom the state has but little control, and who do not hesitate to assume an attitude of open antagonism to both the king and his government.

The church on the other hand will not hear of surrendering the crown, denying that it forms any part of the regalia of the kings of Italy, and claiming that it is above everything else a sacred relic, and as such incapable of being properly cared for and guarded by lay officials who might possibly be professing atheists. As for instance the Premier Lanardelli.

A Sacred Relic.

The iron crown, which is one of the oldest in Europe, is made of large gold plaques, hinged together, profusely decorated with jewels and stiffened inside into the form of a circle by a very narrow and extremely rusty iron band. According to legend and tradition, as well as to the claims of the clergy at Monza, and elsewhere in Italy, this strip of iron inside the gold circlet is nothing more nor less than the nail by means of which the feet of Christ were fastened to the cross. The crown dates from about the middle of the fourth century, was one of the most precious possessions of Emperor Constantine the Great, and was used in crowning the early Lombard kings. Berengario having been crowned therewith at Milan in 888. Napoleon I. used it in 1805 to crown himself as king of Italy at Milan, and Ferdinand I. of Austria was likewise crowned therewith at Milan in 1838. In those days it was kept in the Cathedral church at Monza, near Milon, and when the present emperor of Austria was forced at the close of the (to him) so disastrous war of 1859 to give up his province of Lombardy, he was likewise compelled to abandon his rights to the ownership of the iron crown.

Neither the late King Humbert, nor yet his father, ever made use of the iron crown during their lifetime. At their death, however, it was, as I have stated above, placed on a cushioned stool beside their remains, while the latter lay in state. On each occasion the government was driven to making threats of using force before the crown was temporarily surrendered for the purpose by the ecclesiastical authorities, who protested against the idea of so sacred a relic figuring beside the corpse and as a part of the regalia of a monarch who had been excommunicated and who had been at the head of that government which has deprived the papacy of its temporal possessions.

The present king, like his two predecessors on the throne, has not been crowned and never will be. Nor does he ever intend to wear the iron crown. But he is firmly resolved to obtain possession of it, realizing full well that as matters stand now there is nothing to prevent the priests at Monza from carrying off the iron crown into the vatican as one of the treasures and relics belonging to the pope, while it is, of course, equally possible that the crown might either be carried out of the country, or even stolen. Of course, the clergy will complain and will charge the government with sacrilege, and will invoke the intervention of the foreign powers. But as in other cases it will be without avail and the king of Italy will have his way, aware that no foreign country will care to quarrel with him or with Italy about such a purely domestic and national question as the guardianship of the crown of Italy.

Jokes on Monarchs.

The extraordinary joke played on the official police journal at Prague on Friday last, which, to the horror of the Austrian government officials, appeared with a printed notice offering a reward for "information leading to the arrest of William II., who escaped from Buelow's Lunatic asylum at Berlin, and who is suffering from paroxysms of talkativeness"—a joke likely to result in the dismissal of the editorial staff of the paper—serves to recall the notices which used to appear in the London papers during the reign of King George II., who was wont to spend far more time in his kingdom of Hanover than in his British dominions. The notices which appeared in the papers of the day and which were likewise posted up in the shape of big bills on the very palace walls ran as follows: "Lost, strayed or stolen, a man known as George of Hanover, who has deserted his wife and children, leaving them dependent upon public bounty. Four shillings and 11 pence three farthings is the reward offered for any information which will lead to his restoration to his abandoned family, as he is not worth a crown." The latter being the denomination of the five shilling bit.

Analogous notices have likewise appeared within the last few years in the Belgian press, especially once when King Leopold was found to be missing from Belgium during the midst of a ministerial crisis. Nothing could be done to straighten out matters without his presence. He was sought high and low all over Europe—but in vain, and it was only at the end of more than a fortnight, during which everything had been at a standstill at Brussels, both politically and administratively, that King Leopold was suddenly discovered engaged in a driving and walking tour in fair but frail company in one of the most remote portions of Switzerland.

A New Prince of Japan.

The crown princess of Japan has just given birth to a second son, greatly to the satisfaction of the more enlightened element of the people, who see in this way the succession of their throne assured in a manner consonant with the ideas of modern monarchical Europe. For the present crown prince, like the reigning emperor, are each of them the sons, not of the legitimate consorts of their respective fathers, but of mere deputy wives or adalisques—that is to say, of harem women. The present Empress of Japan, a very remarkable woman, to whom much of the astonishing progress of her country is due, is childless, and is among the very first to realize how difficult it is for the monarchical courts of Christian Europe to treat the mikado otherwise than as a semi-civilized and Oriental potentate as long as he maintains a seraglio as an officially recognized feature of the imperial household.

Since I wrote the other day in these letters announcing that the pope had withdrawn his protection from his godson, young King Alfonso, and given a free hand to the pro-Carlist clergy in Spain, the relations between the vatican and the Madrid government have become even still more strained. For just before leaving for San Sebastian, where he will spend the remainder of July and August at the seaside, the king signed two decrees, one conferring the grand cross of his newly created order of Alfonso XII. upon Perez Galdos, the author of the popular play, holding up certain alleged abuses of the religious orders to popular obloquy, and the other creating a department in the ministry of public instruction especially designed to inspect, supervise and control all the schools and educational establishments belonging to or managed by ecclesiastics or religious orders.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Robert McMunn.

The remains of Councilman Robert McMunn of McKees Rocks, who died yesterday at Atlantic City, will be brought home today for interment. The deceased was 47 years old and is survived by his widow. He was born in the Twelfth ward, Pittsburgh, and lived there for many years. About 20 years ago he moved to that part of Stowe township which is now McKees Rocks, and had lived there since. In 1899 he organized a volunteer fire department and held the position of chief until a few months ago, when poor health forced him to resign. He was elected to council three years ago. Mr. McMunn was at one time a member of the McKees Rocks Racing association, and was a member of the Allegheny lodge of Elks.

Miss Laura B. Conkle.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 15.—(Special.)—Miss Laura B. Conkle, aged 42, for six years one of the most popular school teachers of this city, died from cancer at the home of her brother in Salem this evening. Miss Conkle received the entire vote of East Liverpool in the teaching contest for the European tour given by The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph.

Editor William S. Hartley.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 15.—(Special.)—William S. Hartley, aged 62 years, editor of the New York Clipper, died here today of Bright's disease. He was formerly a resident of Philadelphia and was exalted ruler of the Philadelphia lodge of Elks.

PERSONALS.

Superintendent William Falconer of the bureau of parks is going to make, under the direction of Director McCandless of the department of public works, a trip to Washington and New York to study features in the parks there for the care of animals and birds. The arrangements for birds will be especially looked into with a view to building an aviary here where songsters and birds of brilliant plumage may be kept. In Bronx park, New York, there are hundreds of birds in a wire cage 100 feet high and several hundred feet square, where trees and running water afford the conveniences of the forest. Superintendent Falconer will be accompanied by H. F. Layton, an architect, who will study animal houses, bear pits and other buildings.

"The buildings are all ready and everything is awaiting the action of the ordnance board in the adoption of a new rifle for the army to begin its manufacture at the Rock Island arsenal," said F. S. Robbins, who was a passenger last evening on the Pennsylvania limited en route to his headquarters after a visit to Washington. "It is very probable that the board will adopt a new model of rifle and discard both the Krag-Jorgensen and the Lee-Metford. The manufacture of small arms at any place other than Springfield, Mass., is a departure, and the appropriation making it possible to start this work was made only by the last congress."

A Asher, a horse and mule dealer of this city, left last evening for St. Louis to purchase mules. "St. Louis now rivals Kansas City as a mule center," he said. "To these two cities the whole mule product of the West is taken for marketing. Pittsburgh is beginning to have a great many mules in its streets. The Consolidated Ice Company put 50 mules in its ice wagon service this summer. They stand the heat far better than the horse."

C. B. Price, formerly superintendent of the Allegheny Valley at Pittsburgh, accompanied by his son, Denniston, went to Gettysburg, over the Pennsylvania, last evening to see the encampment of the National Guard.

In a party from Clarion, at the Seventh Avenue, are the following: E. N. Wilson, W. W. Wilson, Mrs. J. A. F. Hay, Clara V. Stull, Agnes Kribbs and Margaret Cuell.

The Rev. A. F. Walker, for the past 18 years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Tarentum, closes his work there the last of this month and goes to Hollidaysburg to take charge of a girls' school.

J. D. DuBois, a well-known lumberman of DuBois, Pa., is at the Henry.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among the arrivals at Pittsburgh hotels from nearby towns, yesterday, were the following:

Victoria—Charles A. Sellers, Johnstown; Oscar O. Thomas, Alliance; C. A. G. Roberts, New Castle; J. F. Fisher, Wheeling, W. Va.; M. P. Frazer, Meadville.

ORPHANS' PICNIC TODAY

Greatest Event of the Kind Calhoun Park Has Ever Known.

Zeno's New Act.

The weather man has promised a pleasant day today for the orphans' big picnic at Calhoun park. This will be the greatest orphans' picnic ever held. No committees have ever worked harder to make the annual event a success, and nothing has been overlooked.

The picnic is to last two days—today and tomorrow. Everybody is particularly requested to go to Calhoun park today, and not put it off until tomorrow, for there will be so many there tomorrow that there is going to be a tremendous crowd.

This is not going to be an ordinary orphans' picnic. Every possible phase of fun is on the program for today or tomorrow.

One thing about this picnic that has never been known before: it will be the entire lack of solicitation for chances. There will be chances to spend money on and to give it to the orphans, but one can do so freely and willingly.

All who want to dance can be accommodated. The floor at Calhoun is fine, and so that there shall be no delay, there will be two orchestras, one playing while the other is resting. This is to accommodate those who want to dance all the time.

Among the attractive features contributed by the Pittsburgh Railways Company management is a balloon ascension at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Mlle. Zeno. She has just received a new balloon and parachute, which will be tried for the first time. She will take with her 10,000 slips of paper, which she will release when 1,000 feet up. Of the 10,000 slips 5,000 will be good for merry-go-round rides at different parks. It is expected there will be a lively scramble among the youngsters to get the slips as they reach the earth.

Married by Rabbi Levy.

The wedding of Miss Rose Zorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zorn of McKeesport, and Abe Silverberg of Oil City occurred last evening at McKeesport, Rabbi J. Leonard Levy of the Eighth Street temple, Pittsburgh, officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Bertha Silverberg, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and Miss Bird Kopkeitz of Duquesne and Miss Beth

THE CONTROLLER MAKES PLAIN HIS STOPPAGE ORDER

Finds Authority for His Positive Stand in the New Charter.

LAYS BARE ONE BUREAU

Mr. Larkin Shows by Comparisons How Money Leaks Away--He Finds People Are Beginning to Understand How City Has Been Run.

Controller John B. Larkin yesterday made an extended statement concerning his announcement, published exclusively in The Gazette of last Saturday, that he would not permit any further borrowing of money by the city to piece out appropriations. The controller says the official announcement will go out to the departments early in August, at the expiration of the first six months of the fiscal year.

In the statement made yesterday Controller Larkin lays clearly before the people what he expects to do along this line. He was asked whether he expected to maintain his purpose to issue no more warrants from the city treasury after the appropriations were exhausted. Controller Larkin said:

"That is my position and I expect to maintain it. I shall issue no warrants after the money in the treasury for the current year has been exhausted, no matter how much has been previously appropriated, or how much money there is in the reserve funds."

Authority Found in the Charter.

"Where do you get that authority?"

"The new charter," said the controller, "recites that no appropriation shall be overdrawn or drawn upon unless sufficient funds out of which a warrant is payable shall actually be in the treasury at the time; and it further recites that if any warrant presented to the controller contains an item for which no appropriation has been made, or there shall not be a sufficient balance in the proper fund for the payment thereof, or which for any other cause should not be approved, he shall notify the proper department of the fact and if the controller shall then approve any warrant contrary to the provisions hereof, he and his sureties shall be individually liable of the amount.

"Long before the people elected the controller he foresaw this difficulty and reasoned that under any law councils could not go on building up appropriations of straw with nothing to support them without sooner or later reaching the end of the lane. They would then have to startle the people with an increased millage and tell them they had been taking four mills from Peter with which to pay Paul, and that Peter now wanted his money.

People Are Getting to Understand.

"Revenues upon which these appropriations were based never reached the treasury and warrants against them could not be paid except through money borrowed to bridge over the difficulties until the revenues of the following year were available. The people are getting to thoroughly understand that last year's deficiency of about $1,200,000 was the aggregate shortage of several years, paid primarily through a loan from the banks and then repaid from the March taxes of this year, and insuring another greater deficiency at the end of the present fiscal year.

"The controller gave early notice of this, urged economy in expenditure, notified the departments in every possible way, and now, six months in advance, advises again that unless rigid economy is practiced, useless men are discharged and the city government administered along lines obtaining in private enterprises it must suspend payment not later than November.

"This notice is given early and publicly, so that when the money is exhausted no blame can attach to the controller. Five months' expenditures are now computed and there remains in the treasury less than $1,500,000 from which to pay the current expenses of the next seven months, plus the September installment of taxes and such revenue as will reach the treasury without effort.

Overloaded Street Department.

"With proper disposition in the collection of outstanding revenues long due the city, and the care essential to public welfare, the controller's judgment is that money sufficient to pay last year's outstanding orders and this year's current expenses would have found its way to the treasury, but should not be expected to cover pay rolls gorged with men as in the highways and sewers bureau for June, amounting to $29,266, against $20,567 for June, 1901.

"It is urged that this amount is necessary and that those charged with the work are conscientious, painstaking men. Against the men, their character or integrity of purpose nothing whatever is said or urged, but the service must be measured by the results to the people when compared with the cost of similar service under like conditions.

"In 1899 the labor for that bureau cost $21,767, with 91 people employed other than laborers. This year what might be called the executive force consists of 164 people, which with the laboring force cost $29,266. The controller draws his conclusions from the cost, other things being nearly equal, and the people who furnish the money are not slow to reach correct conclusions, whoever errs.

Some Interesting Comparisons.

"There are, however, at times exigencies in every phase of life and government beyond the control of men, and for which the wisest and best men should not be held responsible. For the present the controller must accept the figures as he finds them and then ask the people to compare them with the cost per capita for cleaning streets in other cities, as tabulated by the controller of Detroit for the year 1901."

The tabulation referred to is as follows:

Cincinnati, 1901	.61
Milwaukee, 1901	.61
Cleveland, 1901	.59
Detroit, 1901	.56
Louisville, 1901	.50
Buffalo, 1901	.41
Newark, 1901	.38
Jersey City, 1901	.30
Minneapolis, 1901	.67
Pittsburg, 1901	1.01
Pittsburgh, 1902	1.46

"Most people, without even digesting these figures, would agree that the issue of warrants for this bureau should stop now," concluded Controller Larkin as he passed over these figures.

OFF FOR INDIANAPOLIS.

Seventh and Ninth District Men Leave Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 15.—The Ninth District United States Mine workers' delegation, with President Fahey, and the Seventh district delegates, with President Duffy, left this afternoon for Indianapolis to attend the National Miners' convention.

Ten per cent of them are instructed to ballot for a general strike, while the remainder are pledged to vote according to the advice of President Mitchell and the presidents of the hard coal districts.

WILL SHIP 4,000 TONS OF COAL A DAY

BLAINE COAL CO. TO OPEN 1,200 ACRES NEAR ELIZABETH.

New River-Shipping Producer of High Grade Gas Coal—H. A. Kuhn as Engineer, Will Have Charge of Development—Plant to Cost $150,000.

The Blaine Coal Company of Pittsburgh is being organized for an extensive development of high grade gas coal near Elizabeth and along the third pool of the Monongahela river. By December the first drift opening will be in operation and the production will be gradually brought to 2,500 tons a day.

The tract to be developed contains 1,200 acres. Later an additional opening will be made and the output brought to at least 4,000 tons daily.

Most of the product will be shipped by river, although connection will be had with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad. The operations will be entirely on modern methods, the new company having arranged for the purchase of sufficient mining machines from the Morgan-Gardner Engineering Company.

The company will be chartered in Pennsylvania on August 4, through Attorney Henry O. Evans, acting as solicitor. Mr. Evans will be one of the directors, along with T. J. Crump, H. A. Kuhn, who has been connected with the United Coal Company and the Schoenberger Coal Company and who is a director of the reorganized Penn Manor Shaft Company, and Henry W. Oliver. Mr. Kuhn, as engineer, will have charge of the opening of the new mine and the installation of the plant.

The coal property to be developed is held under a long-term lease secured from the Oliver Iron and Steel Company. The vein is the same as the famous Walton coal in the same field. The Blaine Coal Company will start with a capitalization of $150,000, which is simply to cover the initial cost of the plant.

The new company is not to be a trade antagonist of any of the existing interests, but is simply to enter a field of production and marketing where there is ample room. The complete organization of the company will be effected after the charter is secured.

Society.

AUGUST is the month when most of the Pittsburgh churches lose sight of their pastors. The preachers then regain health and strength in the country, at the mountains or on the seashore for the work of the coming year. A delightful vacation has been planned by the Rev. John H. Prugh, D. D., pastor of Grace Reformed church, who will take his vacation during August. Dr. Prugh will be the guest of Gen. John E. Rosser, a distinguished Confederate officer whose home is in the Shenandoah valley. Gen. Rosser and Dr. Prugh will spend two weeks in the mountains of Virginia, where, the general claims, he has found the finest fish in the world. Dr. Prugh will take his two daughters to Harpers Ferry on his way south and, meeting them on his return, will stop at Oakland before coming to Pittsburgh.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead is in Europe, having sailed from New York on June 8. He will return home in August. The greater part of his stay abroad is being spent in Holland. Mrs. Whitehead will meet her husband in New York on his return.

The Rev. Alfred W. Arundel, rector of Trinity church, will probably spend a portion of the summer in the Adirondacks with his family. The Rev. Edward H. Ward, rector of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, will take his vacation in August, but as yet has made no definite plans.

The Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is one of the most devoted golfers about Pittsburgh and regards golf as one of the best of health-giving exercises. Dr. Alexander has been staying at the Allegheny Country club almost ever since the opening of the new clubhouse on Sewickley Heights. In August he will go away for a short time, spending a few weeks at Seabright, N. J., where his mother has a summer home. The Rev. Frank M. Sheed, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, has gone to Europe for two months.

Boating and fishing are popular recreations among the Baptist ministers. The Rev. B. F. Woodburn, D. D., will join his family at Chautauqua in August, where they have been spending their summers for a number of years. The Rev. A. J. Ronsall, pastor of the Baptist church in Rochester, Pa., also goes to Chautauqua with his family during August to spend several weeks.

The Rev. Lemuel Call Barnes, D. D., pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, will take his usual vacation during August. At present Dr. Barnes is in the east, having gone to Providence, R. I., to attend the annual meeting of the National Baptist Young People's union. Mrs. Barnes is at Markleton. In August they will probably go to Michigan and will spend a few days at Chautauqua.

The Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., the veteran pastor of the First United Presbyterian church in Oakland, is not going away this summer, but when the cooler weather comes will probably take a long trip. His son, the Rev. William J. Reid, Jr., now pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will take his vacation in August and will go with his family to a farm in Northern New York state, expecting to make short fishing and hunting trips, with the farm as headquarters.

It is said that more Methodist ministers go fishing during their summer vacations than those of other denominations. It is an open question, but nevertheless the Methodists of Pittsburgh compose one of the largest fishing clubs in the country, the Iron City Fishing club, which has its camp each year during August on the banks of the Moon river, in the Georgian lake district, Canada. Many of the pastors of the churches accompany their church people on this annual fishing trip, among them being the Rev. Charles W. Smith, president of the club and editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate. The Rev. J. M. Thoburn, Jr., D. D., pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, has been spending a few weeks with his wife at Chautauqua. He may join the members of the Iron City Fishing club on their annual outing. The Rev. T. J. Leak, pastor of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church, will be at Chautauqua with his family during a portion of August, at the same time keeping a general supervision over his church at home, which will be open throughout the month.

Lawn Fetes in the Chartiers Valley.

The Chartiers valley was gay last night with lawn fetes and church socials, and as the night was a pleasant one, all were well attended. One of the most important church affairs was the lawn fete given under the auspices of the Women's Aid society of the First Presbyterian church of Ingram, which was held on the property of D. J. Sterling, Prospect street, Ingram. A long list of committees had charge of the affair, and it was in every way a success.

Members of Wesley chapel, Methodist Episcopal church of West Pittsburgh gave a lawn fete and concert for the benefit of the church. The affair was held on the grounds of the church, Crafton Terrace. The church is a new one, and the money received last night will be devoted to its improvement.

The Women's Industrial association of the Sheraden Methodist Episcopal church held their annual concert and lawn fete last night, on the postoffice lawn. These fetes are annual affairs, and this year a special effort had been made to make it a success. A concert was a feature of the entertainment, which was under the direction of Prof. J. R. Wilson. Following are some of the workers who had the affair in charge: Miss Elizabeth Clark, Mrs. C. B. Hamilton, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. Dunlevy, Miss Anna Siegese, Mrs. G. E. Harlan, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. C. B. Phillips was general chairman.

Double Wedding at Freeport.

FREEPORT, PA., July 15.—(Special.)—One of the important social events of the season here was a double marriage ceremony, this morning, when brother and sister married brother and sister. The contracting parties were Miss Gertrude Brombach and Frank Costello, and Miss Catherine Costello and Lawrence A. Brombach. The ceremony took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, which was well-filled with friends and relatives of the young couples. The brides were dressed in cream colored satin, and carried white carnations. After the ceremony, when the newly wedded ones tried to leave the church, the doors were closed against them by their friends, who crowded around and showered them with rice until they managed to escape. Then both couples were driven to Mr. Brombach's residence, on the island, where an all-day and evening reception was given.

Happenings in Sewickley.

An enjoyable event yesterday afternoon, in Sewickley, was the lawn ping-pong party given by Mrs. Edward A. Woods, at her home in Grant avenue, in honor of her niece, Miss Macrum of Denver, Col. It was in the form of a tournament, and 24 young girls were present. The first prize was won by Miss Alice McCague, and the consolation prize was carried off by Miss Isabelle Wardrop.

The Misses Linn of Nevin avenue, Sewickley, gave a pleasant lawn party at their home last evening, with about 20 guests present.

Wedding at Washington.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 15.—(Special.)—A marriage of more than ordinary interest was that of the Rev. W. H. Hartzell of Minneapolis and Mrs. Margaret A. Davis of East Beau street, this afternoon, at the home of the bride, in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William M. Taylor of New Castle, and the Rev. R. E. Slemmons, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Hartzell is a well-known clergyman in the Presbyterian church. He is a native of Western Pennsylvania, a graduate of Amherst college, and served with distinction in the civil war. Mrs. Davis is a well-known member and worker in the Presbyterian church here. Her narrow escape from a street car accident in Pittsburgh some months ago gave an almost tragic interest to the affair, which was so happily terminated today. Mr. and Mrs. Hartzell left on the evening train for a trip east and will later go to Minneapolis, where Mr. Hartzell has resided for many years.

Minneapolis Man Finds Bride Here.

The wedding of Miss Elmina McEwen Johnston, daughter of William M. Johnston of Center avenue, and John Hall Musgrave of Minneapolis will take place this afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Robert J. Coster, rector of Grace Protestant Episcopal church, Mt. Washington, in the absence of the family pastor, the Rev. Frank Snecd of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, who recently sailed for Europe. The bride will be attended by Bttie Fay Emmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Emmons of Bellefield. Samuel Musgrave, a brother of the bridegroom, will be the best man. After a wedding trip of six months abroad, Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave will make their home in Minneapolis. The wedding has been preceded by a number of pretty informal affairs in honor of the bride.

When children are fretful without apparent cause—always ailing, puny, delicate, and you cannot make out what is the matter," Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge will generally bring them round aright.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

Trustees of Will Hope to Have American Students at Oxford During Next Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Secretary Hay has forwarded to the commissioners of the District of Columbia a copy of a letter sent to other states and territories bearing on the American scholarships in Oxford university created by the will of Cecil Rhodes. The District was not mentioned in the will, and therefore there has been doubt as to whether it will be included in the benefactions. The letter of the secretary settles the question in favor of the district. The secretary incloses a copy of a letter from Bourchier F. Hawkley, representing the trustees of the will, in which he says:

"It would be of great assistance to the trustees if they could be furnished, through your kindness, with the opinion of the leading educational authorities of the United States, especially the heads of Harvard, Yale, Columbia and other universities, with regard generally to the election of qualifying students and the best mode of giving practical effect to the scholarship trust. It is hoped that the students can be elected in time to go into residence at Oxford in 1903."

Drowned on Lake Michigan.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 15.—A high wind last night capsized the yacht Arab IV., on the lake. Two occupants of the yacht, Mary Taylor, aged 16, and Harry Jensen, aged 17, were drowned. Eight others got into a yawl which the yacht was towing and reached shore. When the overturned yacht was brought in today, the bodies of the drowned persons were found in the cabin.

It doesn't do for any person to try to take liberties with Fred Clarke and his crew of champions. Mal Eason from Brookville, Pa., who went out on the coaching line on Monday and used language that was personally objectionable to the Pittsburgh players, got what was coming to him yesterday. He was promised a licking on Monday when he was on the coaching lines. He got it yesterday to the tune of 5 to 0, and 2,403 spectators cheered the act.

The champions were laying for Mr. Eason, and when Umpire Emslie announced at 3:30 that the Brookville boy was to occupy the rubber for Boston a smile of satisfaction stole over the faces of the champions. "Here's where we get even!" was the word passed around. For five innings Eason was enjoying a laugh because, owing to his clever pitching, hits and runs were few and far between; but when the boys came in off the field Jack O'Connor yelled: "Come on, now; let's get some runs and settle this argument!" That was the rallying cry the champions seemed to be waiting for.

Worked the Merry-Go-Around.

Clarke, who was first up, stung the ball into left for a single and Beaumont laid down a pretty bunt and beat it out easily. Tommy Leach followed with a nice bunt down past the pitcher and was safe, thus filling the bases. Honus Wagner drove a liner at Hermann Long that nearly tore a hand off him, but Hermann fielded Leach out at second while Clarke scored and Beau reached third. Bransfield sent a fly to left and Beau scored, Wagner reaching second. Honus got home on Long's wild throw of Ritchey's grounder.

The champions had gathered in a run in the second by reason of a base on balls to Ritchey and a single by Conroy. Ritchey went all the way from first home on this single and it was a very daring bit of base running. This made the champions four to the good and they then eased up and had fun with Mr. Eason. Beaumont led in the mischief-making and in the seventh inning while Mal stood posing in the pitcher's box with the ball in his hands Beau stole from second to third and the spectators enjoyed a hearty laugh at the Brookville boy's expense.

And They Scored Again.

Just to show there was no hard feelings the Pirates added a run to their score in the seventh, when with one out Phillippe singled to center and got around on singles by Beaumont and Leach. The champs had three runners on bases in this inning and it looked like another volley of runs, but Eason pitched good ball and got himself out of an ugly hole. This was the inning where Beaumont and Leach took all kinds of liberties on the base paths and created fun for the spectators.

Deacon Phillippe was called on to do the twirling honors for the champions, and it was one of the deacon's good days. In the start-out the Boston batters biffed the ball good and hard, but fine fielding prevented the leather from going safe. The deacon only allowed the visitors four hits, and as they came in separate innings it was not much wonder the visitors were shut out.

They Never had a Chance.

To get right down to cold facts, the Beanesters never even had a look-in, as not a batter got any farther than first base. Beaumont netted hard in the third to get to second, but he was easily nailed by Ritchey on O'Connor's pretty throw. The Pirates' batting was a sight worth looking at, being both fast and clean. The star play of the afternoon was made by Honus Wagner, who, after breaking down Cooley's liner in the third inning, shot the ball to Ritchey at second and Richard was out by five yards. Dick had tried to stretch his single into a double, and will know better next time—particularly when Wagner is anywhere about. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

In the sixth the crowd had the laugh on Tenney when he started after Conroy's foul yelling, "I got it." Freddie did not get within ten feet of the ball, and the spectators guyed him unmercifully.

Fred Tenney's first base play yesterday was sensational. He made at least three fine one-handed catches, stopping wild throws and completing the outs. These displays were very pretty and properly applauded.

Dick Cooley made a strong bid for a hit in the first inning when he laced one .32 the Deacon's benders almost to the score board, but Honus Wagner was the Johnny on the spot and Dick's hit died a borned.

Lee Tannehill the sensational shortstop of the Louisville club, and brother of Jesse Tannehill, met with an accident that may keep him out of the game for the rest of the season. In starting to second on Sunday it was supposed he had sprained his ankle, but an examination by a physician showed the small bone had been broken near the ankle. Tannehill was sent to his home at Dayton, Ky.

"Oh, Bob, now please don't call that a ball," yelled Jack O'Connor as Phillippe shot one over on Tenney in the fourth inning, but Robert did call it a ball, and the glance that Rowdy shot at him was enough to wither a cabbage plant.

Tommy Leach put up a great display of sprinting in the first inning when he chased out to left field after Long's foul fly, but could not reach it. The spectators appreciated the effort, however, and cheered Tommy as he returned to his position.

In the fourth Wagner was called out on a close play at first base, and the Carnegie boy was good and angry. He protested against the decision, and finding he could not move the umpire, he murmured something about somebody being a "fat head."

Honus Wagner didn't get a hit yesterday, but he let Captain Long, of the visitors, know he was in the game. Honus soaked a couple of grounders down at short that nearly lifted Herman off his feet, and after making the stops and throws the Boston captain stopped to nurse his hands.

Jimmy Burke had his manners with him yesterday and was doing the Alphonse act in great style. In the sixth when Wagner was on first and Jimmy was on the coaching line, he was calling out Johnnie this and Johnnie that, and half the spectators did not know who he was yelling at. Even Wagner, whose society name is John, was a little mixed.

Kitty Bransfield had his heart set on a good hard smash that would bring in two runs in the seventh, as Beaumont was on third and Leach on second, with two out, when he came to bat. The best Kitty could do was to shoot a high straight foul up into the air, which Moran got under and Branny slammed his bat and wore an injured look as he strode out toward first base.

Claude Ritchey's base running in the second inning, when he scored from first base on a short single over second by Conroy, was about as clever a display as has been seen here in a long time. Cooley was playing deep for Conroy and Will fooled him with a "Texas Leaguer," which in plain English means a pop fly just over the infield. Cooley had trouble in picking the ball up, still Ritchey would have scored anyway.

That was a very daring, as well as a clever hit, of base running on Beaumont's part when he stole from second to third in the seventh inning while Eason was standing in the box holding the ball. Even the Boston players joined in the laugh at the Brookville boy's expense, and Captain Long yelled for somebody to wake up. A moment later Tommy Leach sneaked from first to second, and another growl went up from the visiting players' bench.

Dick Cooley was angry all over when Wagner threw him out at second in the third inning. Dick had made a great bid for a double, sending a low liner, which Honus could barely reach, but could not catch, and Richard thought it was good for two bases sure, but he found out different, as Wagner's throw to Ritchey was perfect. After Cooley had wiped the dust from his knickerbockers he turned to Wagner and said something about mean ball players.

In the ninth inning Lush was sent up to bat for Eason, and he poked the ball out into left field for a long liner, which Donlin could barely reach, but could not catch, and Richard thought it was good for two bases sure, but he found out different, as Wagner's throw to Ritchey was perfect. After Cooley had wiped the dust from his knickerbockers he turned to Wagner and said something about mean ball players.

MATTY BUMPED AGAIN.

New York Made a Triple Play, but Lost the Game.

CINCINNATI, O., July 15.—Mathewson was batted hard today during the two innings that he pitched. Burke came into the game after the locals had tired themselves out running the bases and fared better. The visitors made a sensational triple play in the second inning. Score:

BROOKLYN WON A GAME.

The Pitchers Were Hit Hard at Chicago Yesterday.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Both teams batted hard today, the visitors starting off with five hits in the first, which, with an error, scored four runs. Chicago's runs and hitting ended when Donovan replaced Newton in the sixth. Lundgren's misplays were very costly, while the visitors supported their pitchers perfectly. Attendance, 1,800. Score:

HOMESTEAD TEAM GIVEN A SHUTOUT

PARKIN'S PITCHING WAS TOO MUCH FOR RISHER'S BATTERS.

Bowman Started to Twirl for Steel Town Team, but Was Driven from the Box. Lawrence Showed Much Better Pitching Form.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Punxsutawney, Pa., July 15.—The superb pitching of Parkins, combined with the all-round playing of the team, resulted in a shut-out for Homestead, not a man reaching third until the ninth inning. Bowman started in to do the twirling, but the locals took kindly to his benders and drove him to the woods. Lawrence replaced him. Score:

Whisner Was in Fine Form.

ALTOONA, PA., July 15.—(Special.)—Whisner pitched in rare form today, having Johnstown batters at his mercy and would have shut them out had it not been for errors of Smith, Sutch and Lee, each of which were costly. Miller's bad inning, the seventh, lost the visitors the game. The locals pounded Him for five hits while he gave a base on balls and hit Lee. Score:

Grand Circuit Races

BLIND HORSE WON THE BIG DETROIT STAKE

Rhythmic, Who Captured the M. & M., Was Never Before Started in a Race.

THE TIME WAS VERY SLOW

J. C. McKinney's Mare Zephyr Was Favorite, but Went Lame and Was Drawn—Many Events Were Pulled Off and Some Close Finishes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Detroit, July 15.—The Detroit Driving club's classic Merchants and Manufacturers $10,000 stake for 2:24 class trotters at Grosse Point track this afternoon was won in hollow fashion by Rhythmic, a blind horse owned by Jesse Turney of Paris, Ky., that had never before started in a race.

Rhythmic's best time was 2:11¼, which is 2½ seconds slower than the record for this event, made last year by Eleta. J. C. McKinney's mare Zephyr ruled favorite in the early betting, but went lame while warming up for the race and was drawn, after a veterinary had pronounced the mare unfit to race. The track was in excellent condition, the weather was fine and over 16,000 people were present.

The Finishes Were Close.

Silver Sign was favorite in the 2:15 tret, in which he won a heat yesterday. He broke badly in the first heat, which went to Gen. Johnson, and then took the next two in driving finishes. Pug made a splendid finish in the last heat and passed under the wire only a head behind Silver Sign.

Direct Hal was in front all the way in the last heat of the Chamber of Commerce stake, postponed from yesterday, which he won in 2:07¼. This remarkable son of Direct went faster than the previous record for the chamber of commerce in all three heats of this event.

In the 2:07 pace, which was next on the card, Shadow Chimes brought $50 and the field $25. Chestnut led to the three-quarters pole in the first heat, but at the turn into the stretch Gears let Shadow Chimes out a bit and he won easily. Shadow Chimes was in front all the way in the second heat. Riley B. took second in this heat by a splendid burst of speed in the last 200 yards.

The 2:20 pace, which was won by Greenline, a bay gelding, owned by J. H. Lesh, of Goshen, Ind., furnished one of the surprises of the afternoon. Dandy Chimes was favorite for the race at $100, with the field $85.

Next on the card was the famous M. and M. stake. Just before the race was called Zephyr, who had brought $250 in the auctions, with Rhythmic next at $100 and the others ranging down to $15, was brought to the judges stand for examination by a veterinary. It was evident that the mare was lame behind, and after she had been declared unfit to race, the judges permitted her to be drawn.

New Pools Were Made.

New pools were immediately made, in which Rhythmic brought $100 and the field $65. Hallie Hardin had the pole for the first heat and led to the back stretch, with Ted second. Here Rhythmic went around them and the blind horse led by six lengths when the field came into the home stretch. He led all the way in the next two heats and was not driven out at any time. Wentworth finished second in the third heat after a hard drive with Lord March, which forced the latter to take third money. Summaries:

OLD ENGLAND WON SEAGATE STAKES

GREAT RACE WITH HIGHLANDER, AND A CLOSE FINISH.

Blanket Was Played for a Good Thing and Won the Sixth Event Easily. Heavy Rain Made the Going Very Rough.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 15.—Old England, with Lee Jackson up, won the Seagate stakes for 2-year-olds at Brighton Beach today. He carried 123 pounds and was admirably ridden. Highlander was added and the public settled on him as favorite at 4 to 5, while Old England's price went upward, closing at 13 to 5. Highlander went to the front and made the running to the turn out of the back stretch. Here Jackson began to move up with the Goldsmith gelding. When straightened out for the run through the stretch Old England was on even terms with the favorite and in a furious drive won by a short head with Highlander second and Leonid, who closed very strongly under Burns' hustling ride, third.

Blanket in the sixth race was played for a good thing. His price opened 3 to 1, and was hammered down until 4 to 5 was the best price. He won easily by one and one-half lengths.

A terrific wind storm swept over the track before the first race was run. It was followed by a heavy rain storm, which made the track a little sticky. Summaries:

First race, hurdle race, one mile and three-quarters, over seven hurdles—Big Gun, 151, Barry, 15 to 10 and 1 to 2, won; Philma Paxton, 139, Bernhardt, 3 to 1, and 9 to 10, second; Charawind, 142, Monohan, 2 to 1 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 3.10. *Double Dummy and *Victor coupled in betting.

Second race, handicap, for 2-year-olds, five furlongs—Tantalus Cup, 124, L. Smith, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, won; Knockngow, 114, Odom, 4 to 1 and 7 to 10, second; Sensing, 107, Shea, 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:02 4-5. Roseboro, Rene, Zadok and Tow Lawson also ran.

Third race, for 3-year-olds and upward, selling, one mile and a sixteenth—Ascension, 96, Pice, 3 to 1 and 4 to 5, won; Oiba, 106, O'Connor, 9 to 10 and 1 to 3, second; Henry Clay Rye, 106, Burns, 20 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:48 3-5. Agnes D, Swampiends and Prince Richard also ran.

Fourth race, the Seagate stakes for 3-year-olds, mile and a furlong—Old England, 123, Jackson, 13 to 5 and 2 to 5, won; *Highlander, 114, Odom, 4 to 5 and out, second; Leonid, 114, Burns, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:54 1-5. Remorse also ran. *Highlander altered starter.

Fifth race, for 2-year-olds selling, six furlongs—Red Knight, 104, Connolly, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Warte Nicht, 100, Wonderly, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; W. R. Condon, 97, Smith, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 4-5. Amorous, Rinaldo, 99, Sayler, Mennenfield, Bernard, June Collins, Eagus and Squid also ran.

Sixth race, for maiden 3-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Blanket, 97, O'Connor, 4 to 5 and 1 to 10, won; The Butterman, 107, Beckman, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Dachshund, 115, J. Martin, 10 to 1 and 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:15. Ohio Girl, The Dagger, Twilight, Gertrude Lodge, The Mower, Fire Escape, Singing Nymph, Annie Grace, Virginia Grace, Biserta, Jean Wood, Aminta, Sam D., Jr., and Lucky Bird also ran.

Seventh race, for maiden 3-year-olds and upward, six furlongs—Hoste, 107, Cochran, 16 to 5 and 6 to 5, won; Stevedore, 107, Shaw, 3 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Octoroon, 102, Rice, 7 to 2 and 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:15 1-5. Ohio Girl, The Dagger, Twilight, Gertrude Lodge, The Mower, Fire Escape, Singing Nymph, Annie Grace, Virginia Grace, Biserta, Jean Wood, Aminta, Sam D., Jr., and Lucky Bird also ran.

THE EDGEWATER STAKES.

They Were Easily Won by Captain Arnold at Chicago.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 15.—Capt. Arnold easily won the Edgewater stakes at Washington park today. Sidney C. Love was second and Shooting Star third. Capt. Arnold and his stable mate, Watkins Overton, were the favorites, coupled in the betting at 11 to 5. The handicap at a mile and an eighth produced a surprise, the winner turning up in Edward Corrigan's mare Aretena, quoted at 17 to 1. The start in this race was not good. Orontas, the favorite, being among those which were away poorly. Weather clear; track fast. Summary:

First race, maiden two-year-olds, five furlongs—Hindi, 105, Coburn, 8 to 1, won; John C. King, 108, Ransch, 5 to 1, second; Tacherin, 105, Woods, 15 to 1, third. Time: 1:02 2-5. Will Shelly, Stoam, Lady Churchill, Lady Jocelyn, Ontonagon, Diamente, Pirate, Flash of Lightning, Gabba, Brimmell, Capable and George Guz also ran.

ECHO OF FIGHT UNION PACIFIC WAGED IN 1901

That Railroad Decides to Fund Debt Incurred in Northern Pacific Deal.

PUBLIC WILL BUY BONDS

Earnings of Tennessee Coal and Iron Company Increased—United Copper Statement—Valley Furnace Consolidation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 15.—It is understood that the management of Union Pacific has decided to fund the floating debt which it accumulated last year in its heavy purchases of Northern Pacific stock. It will be remembered that the management of Union Pacific, to protect itself against the purchase of Burlington by Northern Pacific and Great Northern, entered the open market and purchased the majority of the common and preferred shares of Northern Pacific. It was the contest for the control of this railroad which caused the corner in Northern Pacific stock and the panic in May, 1901, Union Pacific succeeding in purchasing $78,108,000 par value of Northern Pacific stock. The title to this stock was vested in the Oregon Short Line Company, and that property provided for the purchase by the issue of $61,000,000 purchase money certificates. In addition, the Oregon Short Line accumulated current liabilities of $23,202,247 and the Union Pacific accumulated current liabilities of $9,-925,129. Most of this floating debt was directly connected with the purchases of Northern Pacific stock.

It is now understood that a part of this floating debt will be funded, and that in connection with it valuable rights will be given the stockholders of Union Pacific. It is not believed that any additional stock will be used in connection with the funding of the Short Line debt. It is understood that the operation will be carried through by a sale of bonds to the public and the repayment of money advanced by the bankers. The chief advantage to Union Pacific through the funding of the floating debt will be the removal of the possibility of disturbing the temporary loans which the company now has outstanding.

Tennessee Earnings Increased.

It is said the quarterly report of the earnings of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company probably will be issued tomorrow. Surplus earnings for the quarter, so it is said, amounted to about $295,000, as compared with $245,000 in the preceding quarter, showing an increase of about $50,000. The surplus for the six months ended June 30 amounted to about $530,-000. This is after deducting fixed charges and preferred dividend and after appropriating a certain amount for sinking and surplus funds on account of appreciation of capital account due to the removal of ore and coal from the company's lands during the six months. Presuming that this surplus is applicable to dividends on the common stock, it would be equivalent to a little less than 3 per cent on that issue.

The litigation between the company and the Sloss Sheffield Steel & Iron Company, which has been in progress for about three years, on account of their equities in the property of the Lady Ensley Coal & Iron Company, has been amicably settled.

United Copper Statement.

There has been listed on the Boston stock exchange 150,000 shares of the common stock of the United Copper Company. The financial statement of May 25 shows the following assets: Stocks and bonds of the following companies: $1,000,000 per mortgage bonds Montana Ore Purchasing Company; $2,500,000 first mortgage bonds Nipper Consolidated Copper Company, representing the total bond issue of those companies; 76,791 shares of stock of the Montana Ore Purchasing Company; 950,000 shares stock of the Belmont Mining Company; 2,000,000 shares of stock of the Corra Rock Island Mining Company; 2,550,000 shares of stock of the Minnie Healy Mining Company, representing in each case 95 per cent of the stock of those companies, $40,-810,000, cash on hand, $190,000; total, $50,-000,000. Liabilities: Preferred stock, $5,000,000; common stock, $45,000,000; total, $50,000,000.

Valley Furnace Consolidation.

Another attempt is being made to bring about a consolidation of the merchant blast furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. The deal is being conducted by a well-known firm of Wall street lawyers. A representative of this firm said today he was firm in the belief that the deal would be put through.

Word was received in Wall street today that work would be begun tomorrow by the Eastern Steel Company, or one of the largest steel mills in Pennsylvania, at Poltsville. The works will employ in the neighborhood of 1,500 men.

E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 15.—A correspondent writes from Weiser, Ida., that famine prices prevail in the Thunder mountain district and that many disappointed miners are leaving the camp. He says flour is $100 a sack, meat $1 a pound, beans 50 cents a pound, bacon $2 a pound and shoes $20 a pair. Persons with little money are advised to avoid the district. Some of this, according to this, has been greatly exaggerated. The ore bodies are mostly of low grade and large amounts of capital are needed for development and machinery.

Five feet of ore has been struck in the shaft of the Edinburgh, Amador county. It is said prospects $68 a ton and gives milling tests of $82. Sinking is to be continued.

Some good shipments were made last week from the Dunnerberg, near Georgetown, Col. The Hamilton continues to produce as rich mineral as any mine in the camp, the first-class work running as per cent lead and $30 ounces silver or $350 to the ton.

Rich mineral in the Snowdrift is reported at Stanley Basin, Ida., and the camp is attracting disappointed miners from Thunder mountain.

There is increasing activity in the mining district in Butte, Mont. A large number of men is at work prospecting in the mountains and developing promising claims. There are no heavy producers in the district at present, but the prospect of Basin becoming a leading shipping center is improving daily.

The Metal Market.

The metal markets continued quiet today but, with the exception of local copper, steady and firm in tone. In the absence of demand, copper ruled weak and lower here, though higher in the London market. It is said, to speculation. Standard, spot to August, closed at $11 50@11 70; lake, 11 87½@12 10; electrolytic, $11 87½@11 97½, and castings, $11 75@11 90. Lead was unchanged and quiet, spot usually being quoted at 4s8, and futures at 4s 5s. Copper production for the month of June broke all records, amounting to 26,700 tons, as compared with 22,401 tons during June, 1901. There had been produced during the first six months of this year 140,448 tons, against 153,394 tons for the same period last year. The wire rod firm, the local market, prices advancing about 25 points. There was nothing new in spelter, demand being about sufficient to hold prices steady at 5½c. Foreign iron markets were higher, Glasgow closing at 56s 2d and Middlesboro at 50s 10½d. The New York market was unchanged and steady. Warrants nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, $22@22 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $21@22; No. 1 foundry, southern, $21 50@22 50; No. 1 foundry, southern, soft, $21 50@22 50.

SHOWING MADE IN JERSEY CASE ADDS STRENGTH

Opening of General Market Develops Good Advances All Along Line.

SLUMP BEFORE THE CLOSE

Realization by Western Contingent of Speculators Stops the Rise. Freight Handlers' Strike in Chicago Also Had a Bad Influence.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 15.—Prices of stocks started upward with a rush this morning, apparently as an extension and broadening of the buying movement which became conspicuous yesterday in the grangers and Pacifics. There was an appearance of confident demand from new sources, and the open selling of the brokers which has been employed by the western contingent during the recent rise did not affect the strength of the market. This gave rise to the conviction that large capitalists who have hitherto held aloof from the market were coming in prepared to continue the upward movement of stocks. There was active realizing in Missouri Pacific and in a few other stocks under cover of this strength, and the whole market ultimately gave way. There was a momentary check to the downward movement effected by a rally in Missouri Pacific to a point over last night, but the market gave way again and receded generally to below last night's level, with only a few stocks resisting the downward tendency.

Heavy at the Close.

The market closed heavy and not far above the lowest. Among the late points of strength were Amalgamated Copper, the United States Steel stocks, the Chicago & Alton stocks and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred. The advance in Amalgamated Copper was in expectation of action on the dividend tomorrow. The steel stocks responded fractionally to the showing in the brief filed in reply to the suit against the company's bond conversion plan, including affidavits from the corporation's officials bearing on the value of assets. A very favorable weather map this morning and a somewhat easier tone of money added to the belief that important financial interests were newly embarked in the market helped the morning advance. The violent slump in the corn market at Chicago and the belief that the integrity of the corn corner was threatened had much to do with the break in the market, as it was feared that liquidation would be forced in the stock market to protect the position in the corn market.

Money Market Easier.

With the easing of the money rate here came a hardening in the foreign exchange rate and a relapse in the sterling rate at Paris, which brought the international exchanges back to about the gold export point. At the same time New York exchange at Chicago dropped back again from 25c discount to 40c discount. There were, however, no deposits of currency at the sub-treasury for transfer to interior points. The sub-treasury has contributed thus far this week to the money market $1,507,000. The time money market continues to harden, but bankers are still disposed to keep their funds ready to hand in call loans. London turned buyer this morning here, helping on the advance and promising some supply, also, to the exchange market in payments for stocks. The threatening developments in the freight handlers' strike at Chicago may have been an influence on the reaction in the market.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,770,000. United States new 4s declined ¼ on call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 579,900 shares.

United States Steel stocks take on a fractional rise on the good showing made in the answer to the New Jersey suits. The sales were 14,400 common and 6,200 preferred.

Prices start upward with a rush in the morning hours, but advances are not held.

Active realizing by western contingent causes the slump in the general market.

Exchanges are nearing the export point.

The freight handlers' strike in Chicago has a bad effect on the market.

Local Stocks Continued Very Dull and Market Was Weak in Tone

REAL ESTATE TRUST BROKE $6 A SHARE

Denial of the Rumored Deal With Holmes & Sons the Probable Cause.

WINDOW GLASS LOWER

Western Savings & Deposit Bank Advanced to a New High Record.

Steel Stocks Were Dull and Narrow—Fire Proofing Declined.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday continued quite dull and rather heavy in tone, the sales as a rule being small and the closing prices at a loss. The boom in Real Estate Trust Company, which started the preceding day on the published report that it intended to absorb the banking house of N. Holmes & Sons, as quickly collapsed on the official denials of the heads of both concerns. The stock opened $6 lower at $288 and and hung around that price until near the close when a prominent bull marketed a block of 50 shares at 289½, leaving the loss for the day only $4.50. The course of this stock in the public market savors much of the game of ping-pong, for every once in a while somebody starts a rumor that the company will take over this or that institution and the price is immediately marked up. When the deals are pronounced false by the officials down it goes again, and so it has done several times. Yet, nobody ever questions the intrinsic value of the company, for it is considered one of the best in the community by those in a position to know. Its earnings are large and its business constantly growing. It is a pity that speculators should have the right to use the name and standing of such an institution at will, for their own objects. Rumor-mongers in Wall street have recently been taught some severe lessons in the courts, and it is difficult to see why they should go unhampered in Pittsburgh. The only other important change in the banking group was an advance in Western Savings & Deposit Bank to 112½, a new high record, but afterwards the stock sold ½ lower, leaving the net gain an even $12. Some time ago, the principal holders of the stock of this bank were approached for their options, but the price was refused unconditionally. In the industrial group American Window Glass common was weak and 8/8 lower at 62⅛, on sales of less than 600 shares. There are reports that the company is endeavoring to make some kind of an agreement with the Independents and that they have offered them a large price. It is difficult to see why the American company should do this, for if the very favorable reports of its new glass-blowing machine are true, it does not need any outside assistance. The stock has been very highly manipulated, and all reports are looked upon with a grain of salt. In the general list, there was not much doing. Pittsburgh Coal common advanced fractionally, while the preferred was dull and unchanged. River Coal preferred declined to 39⅝, but rallied an eighth. The steel stocks were very dull and without appreciable change. The United States Steel Corporation's answer to the New Jersey suits was considered a very bullish card and the market may reflect it today. It came too late yesterday. Fire Proofing issues were dull and heavy, both declining fractionally. Brewing issues were fairly active and firm. Electrics were dull and ⅛ lower at 104⅝ and Airbrake was passed without a sale. Bonds were dull but steady.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges decreased $1,335,450 93.

Fire Proofing common declined to 31 and the preferred to 39.

Crucible Steel closed at 21¼ and the preferred at 85½.

United States Steel closed at 39⅝ and the preferred at 91.

Pittsburgh Coal common closed offered at 25, after sales at 25⅜.

Pittsburgh Brewing common was ⅛ higher at 27⅛ for 650 shares.

Bonds were very dull, but firm.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Southern Traction 5s offered at 106½.

Republic National bank offered at 115.

Cosmopolitan National bank was quoted at 113 bid.

Hill Top German Savings bank was quoted at 90 bid.

Marlin offered 1,000 Trada Dollar Mining at $1 50 a share.

Colonial Trust Company offered at 390, and 387½ was bid.

Schoyer bought Fire Proofing preferred from R. C. Hall at 39.

Sprout & Co. bid 39⅜ for 500 United States Steel common near the close.

From 12:30 to 2 p. m. there were just two separate trades, aggregating 45 shares.

Pittsburgh & Westerly Street Railway 5s were quoted at 105¾ bid and 106 asked.

The last sale of the day was 50 Real Estate Trust Company at 289½, which Hall sold.

Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Street Railway 5s offered at 99, with 98½ bid.

Whitney & Stephenson bought 100 River Coal preferred near the opening, the first in some time.

Hill & Co. made the only trade in United States Steel common, selling 100 at 39⅜ to Morris, Brown & Co.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer were the only bond buyers of the day, getting $6,000 Brewing 6s from E. Fink at 119¾.

Hill & Co. bought 225 Pittsburgh Coal common near the opening and Sprout got 100; both have been buyers for some time.

McMullin sold 200 Window Glass common at 62¾ to Stevenson and 50 Real Estate Trust at 288, 20 to Stoney and 30 to Hall.

The first sale of the day was 5 Pittsburgh Brewing preferred at 47, then 200 more were sold by Hill & Co. at the same price.

The First National bank of Dayton has decided to increase its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000, and its surplus from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Franklin Steel Casting was quoted at 65 bid. W. A. McCutcheon bid 92½ for 100 North American Savings Company; the stock offered regular at 100.

The United States Steel Corporation has filed its answer to the Berger suit and states that the current assets of the company amount to $1,400,000,000.

Shortly after the opening Wettengel sold 10 Western Savings & Deposit bank to Hill & Co. at 112½, a new high record, and then bought 10 from Schmidt at 112.

At 10:30 a. m. Sprout & Co. sold 100 Westinghouse Electric seconds to Speer & Co. at 104⅝; then Sprout made five consecutive trades of small lots of Crucible Steel preferred at 85½. Near the opening Emery, Lowe & Moore sold a block of 100 Allegheny Traction at 50 to Morris, Brown & Co.; a short time ago 150 shares of this stock sold at 51, which was a new high record.

The Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company is now clearing through the Commercial National bank and the Wilmerding National bank, of Wilmerding, is clearing through the Monongahela National.

Turtle Creek Savings & Trust stock offered at 130. There was no bid. The company has taken over the Citizens Bank of Turtle Creek and put the stock on a $20 per share, of which $20 was credited to surplus.

John B. Barbour, Jr., made the largest single trade of the day, disposing of a block of 500 Brewing common at 27⅞ to Hill & Co.; previous to that Barbour sold 200 at the same price, and afterwards he bought 100, also at that figure.

The Mercantile Trust Company yesterday issued full paid stock certificates for the 4,000 par receipts for the National Fire Proofing Company for the new stock authorized some months ago, first payments on which were due yesterday. The stock of the company is now $8,000,000 offered and $4,500,000 common, a total of $12,500,000. The new common stock will be entitled to share in the next dividend.

Baltimore & Ohio has very comprehensive extensions, etc., in view and large amounts of money must be raised. We hear stock rights are to be issued and that Baltimore & Ohio stock will be put considerably higher to facilitate marketing the new issue. Baltimore & Ohio stock is beginning to sell pretty far below the level of any other eastern trunk line stock. Over 130 is predicted and an increase of 5 per cent in dividends.—Randolph.

To-day, what the speculation will broaden is hard to decide. A bumper corn crop seems probable, but against this almost all good stocks are selling at prohibitive prices to the speculator. The activity of general trade all over the country increases New York to a greater extent than ever before the necessity of furnishing money to move the crops. A surplus reserve of only $12,000,000 does not seem to be enough loose money to finance any considerable bull speculation.—F. M. Dick.

Treasurer John B. Barbour, Jr., of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, yesterday made a report of the condition of the treasury. It showed a balance January 1 of $6,038 78; receipts were $6,538 43, totaling $12,179 21; expenditures were $4,618 68, leaving a balance July 1 of $8,578 58.

The capital and surplus of the Diamond National bank was yesterday increased by $1,200,000, being the amount paid in for the new stock authorized. The bank decided to increase the capital from $200,000 to $500,000, and to sell the new stock at $400 a share, $100 per share to be applied to the capital account, and $300 per share received to be credited to the surplus. This adds $900,000 to the surplus account of the bank, making it $1,250,000.

Wall Street Pointers.

General Electric advanced about seven points and was well bought.

Foreign exchange is unchanged, but no gold exports are anticipated.

The strength of the steel stocks during the late day was favorably noticed.

It is said that a very prominent interest in advising the purchase of the steel stocks.

Reports of various railroad companies at the west show excellent condition in their territories.

The old bull pool in Illinois Central was reported to be buying, allowing for the stock dividend.

The collapse in the corn deal ought to help the market. It has been more or less of a menace.—Dick.

There are rumors of a possibility of an increased dividend rate on Atchison common and Union Pacific.

London was a small buyer of stocks on balance during the day, principal foreign buying was in Baltimore & Ohio.

During the day there was some heavy realizing, largely by the western contingent, but the market stood it well.

I think there will be something doing in Reading very soon, I got this yesterday afternoon from good source.—Wortham.

There are two or three stocks which are heavy all the time now, one is the Canadian Pacific and another is New York Central.

The move in Alton and Union Pacific lends color to the belief that the Harriman, Kuhn, Loeb party are not averse to higher prices.

Associated Copper preferred was more active and was apparently advanced on the shorts, though good selling of the stock was reported at 102 and 103.

The answer filed by the United States Steel Company yesterday against the suit was considered a strong bull argument on its common and preferred stock.

Money is to be working a trifle easier in Wall street, as evidenced in the freer offering of time funds than any reduction in rate, but this condition generally precedes an easing in the money market. The movement during the past week or so in time money is largely due to the maturities of a large number of loans with which commission houses and bankers had provided themselves to tide them over the July disbursements. This created a larger demand than there were funds to supply, hence the firmness.

I think this reaction is only natural after the advance stocks have had lately. Don't think it will go much further and favor buying on declines. Anything looks particularly well and I believe it will sell over 80 before long.—Evans.

The supply of Southern Pacific is thought to be small. The Union Pacific and the Keene pool have bought nearly all the stock that was in the street. Next to the Pennsylvania railroad it has the largest gross earnings of any railroad in the country. Inside interests are very bullish on this stock and are advising its purchase.

Dividends and Earnings.

Erie directors declared a semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent on the first preferred.

Rolling Operating Company declared a dividend of $3 per share, a decrease of $1 from the last payment.

The United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable September 1.

The dividend of 1½ per cent quarterly on the $15,000,000 common stock of the American Window Glass Company, amounting to $168,000, and the semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent on the $10,000,000 preferred stock of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, amounting to $350,000, was payable yesterday.

The general auditor of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company issued yesterday a statement of the earnings, expenses and net earnings of the Baltimore & Ohio system, including the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad for the 12 months ending June 30, as follows: Gross earnings, $51,191,787, expenses, $39,488,-102; net earnings, $18,217,028. The figures for the preceding year were as follows: Gross earnings, $47,114,480; expenses, $31,046,231; net earnings, $16,068,199. The net for June increased $75,324, and for 12 months $2,168,826.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Potatoes Abundant — Apples Scarce and Higher—Navy Beans Advance.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts in the various railroad yards were very light yesterday and prices remained just about as they were on Monday. Bidding on 'change was without spirit, while sellers showed no disposition to make concessions.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car corn and oats, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 1 car hay, 2 cars oats; Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad, 1 car oats; total receipts, 10 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Hay—No. 1 timothy, $15 50@16 00; No. 2 do, $15 50@14 50; No. 1 mixed, $13 50@14 00; No. 1 clover, $10 00@10 25; prairie, $9 00@10 00; packing, $8 50@9 00; loose from wagon, $10 00@17 00.

Millfeed—Spring price (delivered), No. 2 Michigan, 65½@66½c.

Wheat—No. 2 red winter, 74@75c f. o. b. cars within radius of 50 miles of Pittsburgh.

Corn—No. 2 yellow ear, 73@73½c; high mixed, 72@72½c; No. 2 mixed, 71@72c. No. 2 yellow car, 73@73½c; high mixed, 71½@75c; No. 2 mixed, 73@73½c.

Oats—No. 2 white, 50@50½c; high mixed, 50@50½c; regular, 50@50c.

Milfeed—White middlings, per ton, No. 2, $22 00@22 50; brown, $21 50@22 00; bran, $19 00@19 50.

Groceries.

An increase has occurred in the price of oatmeal, and navy beans are again put forward. Aside from these two changes, quotations are the same as they were on Monday.

Coffee—Fair to good, 7c; prime, 7½c; strictly prime, 7¾c; choice, 8c; fancy green and yellow, 8½c; old government Java, 25@26c; imitation Mocha, 21@22c; Arabian Mocha, 25@26c; Maracaibo, 17@17½c; Peaberry, 17@18c; Caracas, 19@19½c; Golden Rio, 14@15c; Java, 26@29c; Mocha, 25@27c; standard brands, 10.50 with 30 days' time. 2 per cent allowed to retailers; high grades, 1.50 more.

Beans—Prime marrowfat, 1a, $2 40@2 50; 1, $2 25@2 35; choice, red kidney, $2 00@2 05; California Lima, 6¾@6¾c.

Canned Goods.

Holders of spot tomatoes are taking very different views of the situation, and it is necessary to go over the whole line of goods to accommodate all sellers. The lowest price yet heard of for standards is $1 45, while there are others who claim to be selling none below $1 60. As a matter of fact there are not many tomatoes and sales are made only in small lots; buyers not caring to stock up heavily on these goods with fresh now coming freely into market, and the time for new packs almost here. Other canned goods unchanged.

Standard pie peaches, 80@85c; gallon pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. C. peaches, $3 50@2 85; Maryland peaches, $1 10@1 30; California, $1 75@2 00; corn, fancy, 7c; fancy hand picked, 5½c per lb; California parchsell almonds, 17c.

Fruits and Produce.

Receipts of apples have been disappointing this week, and prices are stronger with the limited supplies. Potatoes are abundant and only sell readily at low prices. Strawberage is cheaper. String beans are again plentiful and are lower in price. California and Indiana cantaloupes are easier, with increased receipts. Raspberries were fairly plentiful yesterday, but the ripe and rotten had to be run out quickly; the season is almost over.

Apples—Fancy, boxes, $2 00@2 50; new Virginia, per bu basket, $1 25@1 50; choice red, per bbl, $3 00@3 50.
